Government Files Suit In Bus Terminal Case

Seek To Halt Injunction Issued Here

The U.S. Department of Justice filed an integration lawsuit in Shreveport Friday, in a move to force speedy desegregation of Monroe's bus terminal.

Target of the suit is Louisiana's bus passenger segregation laws. The federal government wants to have these laws declared unconstitutional.

District Attorney Albin P. Lassiter said Friday night that he hasn't seen the lawsuit yet and can't comment on what he will do about it until he reads it.

The filing followed swiftly on Continental Southern Lines Inc. attempt to integrate its bus terminal facilities here Wednesday, and local officials' action to prevent this.

SIGNS DOWN

The complaint filed by the government said Continental removed racial segregation signs as required by Interstate Commerce Commission rules, which became effective Wednesday. The regulations prohibit the use of segregated bus seating and terminal facilities by interstate buses.

The day the signs were removed, the complaint said, Lassiter obtained a temporary injunction from Fourth District Judge Mack Barham requiring Continental to restore the signs in conformity with state law but in conflict with the ICC rules.

Barham has scheduled a hearing for 10 a.m. next Friday, when state officials will seek a permanent injunction to enforce state segregation laws at the bus terminal. Judge Jesse Heard is

VOTE IS UNANIMOUS

United Nations Elects U Thant New Secretary

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U Thant of Burma was elected acting secretary-general of the United Nations Friday by unanimous vote of its 103 members.

The mild-mannered Buddhist diplomat was chosen by secret ballot of the General Assembly. He will serve until April 10, 1963, end of the five year term of the the late Dag Hammarskjold, who was killed in a plane crash in Arfica Sept. 18. The job pays $55,000 a year in salary and allowances.

U THANT OF BURMA

The assembly's action followed a unanimous recommendation by the Security Council.

The new acting secretary-general got a 30-second standing ovation from delegates and spectators on entering the packed blue and gold assembly hall.

Taking the oath of office, U Thant, 52, swore not to seek or accept instructions in regard to the performance of his duties "from any government, or other authority external to the United Nations."

In his acceptance speech soon after, he promised to maintain an attitude of objectivity in keeping with the policy of nonalignment of Burma, which he has represented here since 1957.

He also said he would invite a limited number of U.N. undersecretaries "to act as my principal advisers on important questions ... and they would include Ralph J. Bunche of the United States and Georgy P. Arkadev of the Soviet Union.

"It is also my intention," he declared, "to work together with these colleagues in close collaboration and consultation in a spirit of mutual understanding."

This, he said, "is without prejudice to such future organizational changes as experience may reveal to be necessary."

The key phrase of U Thant's statement was the part about a limited number of advisers.

The Big Four all accepted that formula when U Thant submitted it to them secretly. That broke a deadlock over whether there should be seven principal advisers, favored by the Soviet Union, or five favored by the Western powers.

West Monroe Natural Gas Rate Slashed

PSC Announces 15 Per Cent Cut Outside Monroe

Gas rates outside Monroe will be chopped about 15 per cent for United Gas Co. customers in the Monroe-West Monroe division, Public Service Commissioner John J. McKeithen announced yesterday.

"This reduction will give the people in the affected area probably the lowest gas rates of any community in the United Gas system where the rates are not fixed by franchise," he said.

Monroe gas rates are fixed on a franchise basis.

McKeithen said the new rates for customers served by the Monroe and West Monroe distribution system outside the city limits of Monroe would go into effect in about two weeks.

OTHER CUTS

"The rate reduction was the result of a show cause order issued by the commission against the gas company in an effort to secure a reduction for those in the area immediate to Monroe where the gas rates are fixed by franchise at an extremely low rate," he said.

He said he was hopeful that additional reductions might be effected in other areas of the Monroe division in the future.

"A close surveillance will be kept on the company's activities and earnings with this in mind," McKeithen said.

The commission's order was issued, he explained, on recommendations by the commission's legal counsel, the state assistant attorney general, the commission's utility experts and a special accounting firm from Washington, D.C.

He said the new rates were agreed to after consultation with Mayor J. Allan Norris, City Atty. Charles Traylor and various business, civic and labors leaders.

"All agreed that we should accept this reduction rather than take the risk of receiving none at all," McKeithen said.

He added: "I want to express my thanks to a number of people in West Monroe, Mayor Norris and Mr. Traylor, whose advice was sought and who assisted in the negotiations with the gas company."

Gen. Taylor, JFK Confer On Viet Nam

Adviser Sees No Need For Major U.S. Troops Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor returned from Southeast Asia Friday and promptly reported to President Kennedy on "many useful things" that can be done to strengthen South Viet Nam against increased Communist attacks. They conferred for two hours.

While Taylor's recommendations were not announced immediately, the general indicated upon his arrival that he saw no need to dispatch any large number of U.S. troops to Viet Nam now. But he may have recommended sending some supply and logistic forces.

Taylor, the President's special military adviser, was believed to have submitted a five-point program to the President. Among other things, it was believed to call for new efforts to improve the effectiveness of government forces fighting guerrilla invaders.

The White House declined comment. It said only that the President would study Taylor's report during the coming week after Secretary of State Dean Rusk returns Sunday from Japan. Rusk presumably will have some recommendations of his own on Far East policies.

Sitting in on Taylor's conference with the President was Dr. Walt Rostow, presidential assistant on national security affairs who accompanied the general on his trip.

Taylor said upon his arrival at the airport that he found "human resources adequate" in Viet Nam. He declined to say whether a token force should be sent there, adding this was covered in his report to the President.

Kennedy sent Taylor to South Viet Nam on Oct. 15 to make an "educated military guess" about the need for any further U.S. aid to help the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem counter increased attacks by Communist-led guerrillas.

Taylor spent seven days in South Viet Nam and two in nearby Thailand, which U.S. officials fear will be next on the Communist timetable of aggression in southeast Asia.

Judge Rules Mistrial In Bus Burning

ANNISTON, Ala. (UPI) — Trial of eight men accused of burning a "freedom rider" bus here May 14 ended in a mistrial for seven defendants Friday. An eighth received a directed verdict of acquittal.

An all-white male jury deliberated nine hours before reporting to Federal Judge H. H. Grooms it was unable to agree on two charges against each of seven defendants.

NEW TRIAL DUE

Asst. U.S. Dist. Atty. R. Macey Taylor said Grooms would reset trial for the seven, probably for a special session of court rather than waiting for the regular term of court to open.

Defendants in the case were Frank B. Johnson, 31, Jerome B. Couch, 25, Jerry Willingham, 23, William Chappell, 40, Jerry R. Eason, 23, Frank Tolbert, 31, Roger D. Couch, 19, and Kenneth L. Adams, all of the Anniston area.

Grooms directed the jury to find Adams innocent because of insufficient evidence to connect him with the violence. The order in effect removed Adams from the case.

The eight were accused of attacking the bus outside Anniston May 14. They were charged with interfering with interstate transportation and conspiracy to commit a crime against the federal government.

Army To Act On Walker's Resignation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army received the resignation of Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker Friday, one day after his plan to quit was announced in a lengthy, blistering complaint that he was barred from speaking out against the dangers of communism.

Indications were that the controversial general will be allowed to doff his uniform, but the Army said an announcement would be issued when "a decision on the request has been made."

CAN BE REJECTED

This obviously referred to the fact that the secretary of the Army has the right to turn down the resignation. Officials at the Pentagon indicated there was no prospect of this since Walker has completed the normal 30-year span of a career officer.

The 51-year-old West Pointer made known his decision in an 11-page statement made public by a Senate Armed Services subcommittee Thursday. He said he was resigning "with a heavy heart" but "I must be free from the power of little men who, in the name of my country, punish loyal service to it."

Walker was admonished and stripped of his command of the 24th Infantry Division in Germany after the Army found that he had made inflammatory and derogatory statements about prominent Americans and that he had tried to influence the votes of his men and their families in the 1960 congressional elections.

Most members of Congress and Army officers were close-lipped about Walker's move. But some senators said they expect him to testify at Senate Preparedness subcommittee hearings later this month into charges that the Pentagon is muzzling the anti-Communist efforts of military men.

Walker said that in resigning he will pass up the $12,000-a-year pension he could receive as a retired officer.

Texans Vote In Congress Race Today

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson jumped into Texas' 20th District congressional election Friday in an effort to offset the effect of former President Eisenhower's campaigning earlier in the week for the Republican candidate.

The election Saturday will fill a vacancy created when Democrat Paul Kilday resigned from Congress to become a judge on the Court of Military Appeals. More than 80,000 persons are expected to cast ballots.

Johnson campaigned Friday for Henry B. Gonzalez, 45, an "unreconstructed liberal" and Democrat. President Kennedy also endorsed Gonzalez in a letter. Eisenhower campaigned for John Goode, 38, a "militant conservative" and Republican.

Gonzalez is the son of naturalized parents who were born in Mexico. There are thousands of Latin Americans in the Fourth District and the Democrats went after their vote.

Long Range City Plans Discussed

Long range plans for Monroe ranging from a sewer treatment plant to a new City Hall were discussed at a meeting of city officials and businessmen here yesterday.

Mayor W. L. Howard said the group discussed the "[illegible]" remaining needs to bring Monroe up to date.

"At the same time the new recreation program, which includes the new centers that are now under construction, will be in operation next year," he added.

With these programs accomplished, Howard said Monroe still needs "several things of major importance to bring our town in my opinion up to modern standards."

He listed the needs as a sewer treatment plant, a sanitary incinerator or land fill, City Hall and jail, a municipal auditorium and an overpass or underpass at the Illinois Central tracks in downtown Monroe.

Sub Fires 3 Missiles To Target

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Operating with almost split-second precision, the nuclear submarine Ethan Allen successfully launched three advanced Polaris missiles from beneath the Atlantic Ocean in less than three hours Friday.

The stubby rockets rode columns of compressed air to the surface at 9:02 a.m., 10:30 a.m. and noon. The first-stage engines ignited above the water and the second stages fired a minute later to propel the nose cones more than 1,500 miles to a target area near the West Indies island of Antigua.

FBI Arrests Fugitive For Bank Robbery

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — John Robert Sawyer, one of the FBI's 10 most wanted criminals, was arrested Friday at Wickenburg about 50 miles northwest of Phoenix.

Sawyer is wanted in the $2,500 robbery of an Omaha, Neb., branch bank.

Arizona Highway Patrolman Bernard C. Irwin spotted a car with a Florida license plate driven by Sawyer and followed it into Wickenburg. He said the arrest was made without trouble. In the back seat in a valise was a snub-nosed .38-caliber revolver.

Accompanying Sawyer, 30, was a young woman from Albany, N.Y. Patrol officials said she gave her name as Josephine Miscuraca and her address as the Hampton Hotel in Albany. She said she had been with Sawyer since Oct. 1.

Described as a vicious and long-time criminal, Sawyer was brought to Phoenix for arraignment before U.S. Commissioner E. Watson.

scheduled to [illegible] hearing.

Defendants named in the federal lawsuit are Continental Southern, Monroe bus station manager Ernest Hall, Barham and Lassiter, according to an Associated Press release from Washington, D.C.

In the suit against Monroe officials, the Justice Department asked the court to prohibit officials from enforcing state segregation laws affecting bus travelers in Monroe.

This suit is similar to one filed September 1 in Baton Rouge. That case still is in pre-[illegible] stages.

Friday the Justice Department also moved to hasten action on one of two cases brought previously in Mississippi.

The suits, filed Tuesday at Oxford, Miss. and Thursday at Jackson, are similar to the Louisiana lawsuit.

Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy announced the filing of a "certificate of general public importance" to speed up the Oxford action. It requires the chief judge of the federal circuit to convene a three-judge court to expedite a case, Kennedy explained.

In the Oxford case, the Justice Department asked for a court order prohibiting state and local officials from enforcing state segregation laws.

It said the [illegible] federal law and with the new ICC bus de-segregation rules.

"Unless injunctive relief is promptly forthcoming," the government said in the certificate, "the resulting clash between federal and state authority, which these and other public officials, including defendants, have precipitated, can but lead to widespread confusion and disrespect for law and order."

City Taxes For Monroe Increased

The City taxes in Monroe are up [illegible] per cent this fiscal year based on a total of 36.75 mills. The increase is caused by two bond [illegible] school and recreation.

The tax notices which were mailed from City Hall several days ago show an increase of 5.25 mills over last year, from 31.50 mills to 36.75 mills.

The administration, however, did drop a quarter mill off the total.

Mayor W. L. Howard commented Friday morning, "The increase in property tax was brought about because of the two bond issues badly needed for school and recreation expansion and improvement."

The bond issues included:

1. City School Board — $1.7 million, 2.25 mills assessment this year. Property owner approval May 26, 1961.

2. City Recreation Board—$[illegible],000, 2.25 mill assessment, plus a one-mill maintenance tax for recreation. Property - owner approval November 5, 1960.

With an increase of 5.25 mills for the two bond issues, the total millage that could have been assessed is 37 mills, but City Treasurer Mel Cook pointed out that a quarter mill was chipped off.

Property owners already have begun paying their taxes, with December 31, 1961 set as the deadline.

"The money is coming in real good," Cook said.

Barnes Theft Case Appealed To High Court

Attorneys for Billy Joe Barnes, Texan, convicted of theft from Forest Johns Inc., said Friday that the case has been appealed to the Louisiana Supreme Court and that a decision is expected Monday.

J. Carl Parkerson of Monroe and Clyde Woodie of Houston, Tex., lawyers for Barnes, have asked primarily for dismissal of the conviction, or in the alternative, a new trial.

Barnes, of Ft. Worth, was charged with showing Arthur Grant a diamond worth $3,000 wholesale and $6,000 retail, and with obtaining a $1500 loan on it, but with switching this diamond for a fake "fabulite" stone.

He never reclaimed the stone.

A jury convicted him of theft and he was sentenced to five years at the Louisiana State Penitentiary, during the week of February 20.

Since that time, the case has been on appeal, and Barnes has been held in the Ouachita Parish Jail. A prison sentence of five years or over prevents the defendant from making bond while the case is being appealed.

Parkerson and Woodie appeared before the seven - man Supreme Court in New Orleans on October 6 and argued the case.

Friday, Parkerson said that he expects the Court, headed by Justice John Fournet, will decide on the appeal at 11 a.m. Monday.

Freeman's New Fiasco

Undoubtedly, more than half of President Kennedy's New Frontier officials were poorly chosen. We might go farther, lump the whole outfit together and say the same thing. Some were chosen as political payoffs, some as wild-eyed New Frontier braintrusters. Few, if any, have shown good judgment. Yet, among all these men, two show up as being so outstandingly bad that they should be fired, dismissed, impeached, booted out, or what have you?

As we see it, the two men who have brought most embarrassment, disgust and glaringly poor judgment or principle to their positions and to this country are Adlai Stevenson, chief United States delegate to the United Nations, and Orville Freeman, secretary of Agriculture. Stevenson seems to have done everything within his power to sell out the United States to the United Nations and to advance the cause of Russia's communistic philosophy. This has been pointed out, however, and right now we would like to turn our attention to Freeman's new fiasco.

Just when the numerous branches of the cotton business were coming out of years of surplus problems and the time was ripe for more cotton acres, Freeman, who has advocated confiscation of farm land and who says he considers government payments made to farmers for withholding land from cultivation to be a sort of payment for the land itself, forced through a reduction of acreage. Undoubtedly, this was because he wanted to put more of a squeeze on the farmers with the hope of fixing things so that the federal government could take over agriculture completely.

Now Freeman is under fire from Senator John Tower, (R-Texas) a staunch supporter of independent farming and free enterprise. Senator Tower's protest is that within a short time after cutting back the acres in the United States on the plea of a surplus, the new secretary went to India and backed out of a long-term understanding for furnishing cotton from the United States, on the plea of a cotton shortage here.

It would be difficult to imagine a more diabolical scheme for ridding the United States of its world markets for cotton. Surplus while speaking in the United States and shortage while speaking in India will take some explaining, even with politics at its lowest.

Freeman was already in difficulties on account of his corn policies. Corn was cut from 71 million acres last year to 58 million this season. The idea was to get a crop of 3.2 to 3.3 billion bushels. The government is paying about $750 million for idle acres under this method.

The reduction is small. The crop estimate on September 1 was 3.3 billion bushels. Two weeks later it was moved up to 3.5 billion. Then it was moved up again. Last year's crop was 3.8 billion bushels, not much more than this year's crop.

While we endorse the principle of plenty, rather than the principle of scarcity, it seems farcical to pay out $750 million to reduce the crop and then to face the prospect of having to spend hundreds of millions during the next 10 years for storage.

Freeman has had other troubles, some of them possibly not stemming entirely either from poor judgment or poor principles. He has had run-ins with some members of the president's official family. Who was right and who was wrong may not be entirely clear but if Freeman's judgment was as poor in those respects as in some others, it would seem logical to believe he could not have been right.

Dr. Willard Cochrane, one of Freeman's staff, tangled with Meyer Feldman, long-time associate of President Kennedy.

Then there was the personal conflict between Secretary Freeman and Attorney General Robert Kennedy, the president's brother. Robert Kennedy was reported to have protested Freeman's plan for enlarging powers of farm cooperatives. Naturally Freeman lost. He had about as much chance for success as the man who tries to fire the boss.

Perhaps, if his troubles pile up higher, he will lose more than an argument. If that happens, it will be a happy day for the farmers, who oppose federally-bossed agriculture, and for the country as a whole.

Ike Elder Statesman

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is having the time of his life and growing surprisingly in stature. Since he left the presidency he has escaped from his perpetual advisers and has been doing some serious thinking of his own. When he was president, his best actions were the result of his own thinking.

Eisenhower, now an elder statesman, with a working lifetime of service to the nation behind him, recently had this to say:

"Addiction to a soft - headed philosophy that federal money can cure every national ill could undermine one of the greatest resources of America — the sturdiness of and self-independence of the individual citizen. It could ultimately cost our people their liberty.

"The unending drive for federal domination of the nation's power and water resources and the ever-increasing federal involvement in urban problems, agriculture, housing, care of the youth and aged, the ill and the poor, and the temporarily unemployed, can only end, if unchecked, in a dangerous centralization of power.

"Continued, this tendency will ultimately destroy the will and ability of the individual and community to govern themselves."

Realizing the value of President Eisenhower's experience and wise thinking, President Kennedy has wanted to make the former president one of his advisers. One of the things that stumped him was that former President Truman demanded that he be given equal status with Eisenhower if such a plan were put into effect. Obviously, that was an impossibility. Kennedy might have named Truman as an adviser but he couldn't have afforded to pay much attention to him. Rather than offend some of the Democratic party leaders, the president seems to have about given up the idea of counseling with Eisenhower.

The former president has become so active, however, in making plain the dangers faced by this country that he is already been looked upon as the man who possibly can bring about the election of the next president of the United States, even though he, himself, is not eligible to run.

Federal 'Moonlighting'

Right now the biggest and worst 'moonlighter' in the United States is our federal government. The government has its hands full in trying to meet the overriding need of creating and maintaining a military strength that will deter any potential aggressor, or, if worst comes to worst, to provide overwhelming retaliatory power. Instead of sticking to that task, it is "moonlighting" by attempting to do what other forces — private industry, state and local government and individuals should do.

Individuals who work at more than one job are called "moonlighters" because it has been presumed they work on the extra job at night. The secretary of labor says that is not true and that so-called "moonlighting" by individuals does not take many jobs from others.

Khrushchev Beguiles People

Gives Out Fantastic Story Of Great Things Their Government Will Do For Them In Next 20 Years

At a time when Nikita Khrushchev is telling the western world how he can bomb it to destruction he is also beguiling his own people with a fantastic story of the great things their government will do for them within the next 20 years.

Every Washington writer on any kind of mailing list has received a copy of the Communist program in a 130 page pamphlet distributed by Crossroad Press, listed with the Department of Justice as the New York branch of a Moscow state firm.

The pamphlet is worth reading. If you have a grasp of the economic principles upon which this country has become great, you will be amazed at the celverness with which the Commies have distorted the achievements of the USA. And if you really understand the accomplishments of free enterprise, and its cooperation with free government, you will appreciate how the Soviet citizens are being hoaxed.

Nobody can excel the Communists in double talk, meaningless denunciations of our capitalist system such as "State monopoly capitalism combines the strength of the monopolies and that of the state into a single mechanism whose purpose is to enrich the monopolies, suppress the working class movement and the national liberation struggle, save the capitalist system and launch aggressive wars." Yes, sir, that's us, all in one sentence.

The road of human progress, of course, is the transition from capitalism to communism. Half of the "program" is devoted to this theme, but any high school senior in the U.S., rambling through its pages, would probably be impressed that the accomplishments which Khrushchev promises for the future are the achievements of the present in this country.

The Soviet program continues to stress heavy industry as the Communist's main objective, though the U. S. has taken heavy industry expansion in stride. Yet the program presented to the gullible Russian people and the brain washed Communist party members at the Peoples' Congress this month promises an increased industrial output of 150 per cent in 10 years, exceeding the contemporary level of U. S. industrial output, and of 500 per cent in 20 years, "leaving the present over all volume of U. S. industrial output far behind."

This is to be done through increased labor productivity, which in 20 years will excede that of the U. S. by more than 100 per cent, "and considerably more in terms of per hour output due to the reduction of the working day in the USSR."

Well, if that's the case, what has happened in the first 40 years of Communism? That should have been long enough to show what Soviet labor can do, without waiting another 20 years.

Industrial expansion will also require electrification of the whole country, with an output of 900,000-1,000,000 million kilowatt hours in ten years and three times that much in twenty. The U. S. now has in excess of 750,000 million kw hours, and can expand just as rapidly as the Soviet, if that is necessary. But it is going to require an almost unbelievable expansion of industry and agriculture to consume all that power, particularly since the USSR now has about one-third the power output of the U. S.

The predicted Communist production is not beyond the range of possible accomplishment, providing enough industrial direction can be supplied of the type in which reliable evidence indicates the Russian, working under party direction have been notably lacking.

But when it comes to agriculture, upon which the success of the whole program really depends, the Commie program really strains credulity. It rehashes every old argument for collective farms (kolkhozes) despite the repeated failures of Russian farm production to come close to the per farm yield of the U. S.

It is doubtful whether even the peasants can understand such a pipe dream as "When the transition of one Communist form of people's property and the Communist system of distribution is completed, commodity money relations will become economically outdated and will wither away."

In a nutshell, the Red program promises higher wages and lower prices as production increases. Every economic theory in history has speculated on the same possibility, with the abandonment of the profit incentive. But somehow, it just never worked. Well, anyway, better Red dreams than no dreams at all.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Emotions, Heart

Doctor Calls Man's Condition Neurocirculatory Asthenia

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Our doctor examined my husband from tip to toe, and found that he has a normal heart. He calls his condition neurocirculatory asthenia. Now isn't that a high - sounding diagnosis for no trouble at all? My husband still complains of dizziness, shortness of breath, palpitation, faintness, nervousness, excess perspiration and pain over his heart. Wouldn't you think he had enough symptoms to have heart disease? — Mrs. M.

ANSWER: Not having examined him, I can't say yes or no. But I will agree that all of these symptoms he complains of certainly fit in with the typical picture of neurocirculatory asthenia. (Some call it effort syndrome, anxiety neurosis, or irritable heart.)

This syndrome (collection of symptoms) was first observed in World War I. Even such world-famed cardiologists as Dr. Thomas Lewis and Sir James Mackenzie thought it was real heart disease. The first thought it was due to some infection; and the second, due to beginning overactivity of the thyroid gland.

However, in time we recognized it for what is it emotional factors are at the bottom of it. I must say, Mrs. M., that this is a stubborn condition. Some patients complain for the rest of their lives. They are never free from some discomfort associated (they think) with their heart. But this should bring you comfort: studies of thousands of cases show that it isn't a life - shortening condition. In spite of the palpitation, pain and weakness, your husband can look forward to a normal life expectancy. Meanwhile his doctor will try his best to alleviate his symptoms.

BEDSIDE MANNER

"The minute he walked into my room I felt better." "All he has to do is pat me on the back and say I'll be all right and I know I will." "If he told me to jump out of my bedroom window I would. That's how much confidence I have in him."

Such are common statements by patients in discussing their doctors. These people don't how how fortunate they are. There are too many who are completely neutral about their doctors. It wouldn't make any difference to them if they went to Dr. Z. instead of Dr. X. And, of course, there are some who actually dislike their doctor. "I just keep on going to him because he's supposed to be good."

Call it bedside manner or what you will, it is important in the doctor - patient relationship. People who have great faith in their doctor have a better chance to stay well or get well. How do you stand? If your own doctor doesn't mean much to you one way or another, it wouldn't hurt to shop around for one who does. I don't mean hop on the medical merry-go-round. But just keep your eyes and ears open. You'll find him—if you're lucky.

For Mr. J.: You can stifle your family with too much attention, you know. You can become so intent on trying to help everyone that at last some members will resent the fact that you are "always butting in."

A good plan is not to offer advice or help unless asked. In that way you will live and let live. My guess is that's why your family seems to have turned against you lately. Try this, and you won't have to be taking tranquilizers.

Bible Thought

"If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." 1 John 1:9.

If we tell God our sins here, we can be sure they won't be told in Heaven. "Your Heavenly Father will forgive you."

Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Saturday, Nov. 4, the 308th day of the year with 57 to follow in 1961. Today is Will Rogers Day.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning stars are Mercury and Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

American humorist, philosopher, actor and author Will Rogers was born on this day in 1879.

On this day in history:

In 1842, Abraham Lincoln was married to Mary Todd in Springfield, Illinois.

In 1931, the League of Nations cited Japan for willful aggression in Manchuria.

In 1956, the Soviets said they were ready to study underground atom testing.

In 1960, the United States orbited a satellite to probe the "atom roof."

A thought for today: Will Rogers said: "All I know is just what I read in the papers."

GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Reorganization

Shaking Up Of State Department Is Indicated In Circular

After all the arguments about the separation of church and state, which means non-interference by one with the other, Congress passed Public Law 87-318 which reads:

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That no priest, clergyman, rabbi, or other duly licensed, ordained, or consecrated minister of any religion authorized to perform a marriage ceremony in the District of Columbia or duly accredited practitioner of Christian Science shall be examined in any civil or criminal proceedings in the courts of the District of Columbia—

"(1) with respect to any confession, or communication, made to him, in his professional capacity in the course of discipline enjoined by the church or other religious body to which he belongs, without the consent of the person making such confession or communication, or

"(2) with respect to any communication made to him, in his professional capacity in the course of giving religious or spiritual advice, without the consent of the person seeking such advice, or

"(3) with respect to any communication made to him, in his professional capacity, by either spouse, in connection with any effort to reconcile estranged spouses, without the consent of the spouse making the communication."

I am not writing in criticism of the law, but the fact is that this is the protection of a religious rite by the state which is gainsaid by those who insist that the Constitution forbids any such relationship. This law is favorable to the Roman Catholic Church which specializes in private confession, although most churches have some form of public confession of sin. The Jews, for instance, do not practice private confession but they do, on the Day of Atonement and on some other occasions, engage in public confession.

This Act, particularly Section Three, is an invasion of the authority of the courts, but is [illegible] ally sound because unless secrecy were respected reconciliations would not be possible. In any form of marital troubles this is a very important consideration. We have here a contact between those who insist that separation of church and state [illegible] lack of relationship between social agencies which exist in the same area and which must be related because they exist and those who insist that the emphasis upon separation of church and state cannot mean total separation.

Thus, those who oppose the cooperation of church and state in a society in which both exist raise a false issue because all institutions which exist in the same area must either cooperate or be antagonistic. It is unbelievable that in our society church and state should be antagonistic to each other; therefore, they must cooperate. The extent of such a cooperation is a just subject for discussion.

In the armed forces this is carried on through in the chaplain services which are never divided as to religions but only as to services. In a Naval District, for instance, the Chief Chaplain may be a Jew, Catholic or Potestant, but all chaplains will wear naval uniforms and will perform services not only according to their own rites, but according to any rite. The highest form of religious cooperation is to be found in the chaplain services and the cooperation is conducted by the United States government and is under its management.

If all this can be accomplished in the armed forces and in the District of Columbia, why should there be such an agitation for restriction of the relations of any church to our schools? The agitators for separation of church and state in relation to education fail to recognize that it is impractical to claim that religion should have no relationship to education when both religion and education exist in the same area and are, in effect, related to the same government. Besides, historical tradition in the United States is religious, the country having been founded by religious sects which migrated to it from England, France, Holland, Germany and other countries in pre-Revolutionary times.

The Marxists and other atheists have raised an unnecessary issue in our society with a view to increasing separations within our community. It is essential to end these separations and to build a more cooperative society. Every effort at separation can only be designed to weaken the country and to add to the internal quarrels [illegible] cooperation. We do not need conformity but cooperation [illegible]

Ex-Senator Knowland Would Sever Relations With Russia

WASHINGTON (D.C.) — Were William Knowland [illegible] in the Senate he told this reporter (and possibly others) that at the right moment and with the right incentive, he would come out for severing diplomatic relations with Russia.

With Knowland regrettably gone from the upper chamber, along with some other unreconstructed Communist distrusters, and with Styles Bridges recovering from a grave illness, there is no realistic chance of mounting a derecognition movement.

Nevertheless, the moment and the incentive have arrived. The Soviet nuclear barrage from their Arctic position goes far beyond the needs of scientific experiment and beyond anything that could be called "justifiable" military testing. It is a series of acts in defiance of world opinion, and beyond the pall of civilized behavior.

We could reasonably, and with abundant historical precedent, call it a hostile performance which makes formal relationships between the Russians and ourselves no longer tenable. If we were still leaders of the Free World, we could send the Russian Ambassadors home from Washington and start a chain reaction of ejections around the world.

But that time, too, has gone. We would probably be alone in our glory, but the benefits of ending diplomatic relations would not be single by any means.

First, it would solidify our Russian policy which has been as fluid as 57 Varieties of soup. At no time since 1933, when we recognized the Red Revolution, have we had an anti-Communist foreign policy. In all those intervening years we have had proof upon proof, example upon example, that World Communism has an anti-American policy.

Why we have not reciprocated in kind is one of those questions over which the Sphinx can ponder many centuries after Western Civilization has gone. But de-recognition, and perhaps nothing else that we could safely do, would not only be the proper response to the Russian nuclear barrage—it would make steel of our foreign policy which men have called the shield of the republic.

De - recognition of the USSR would also put an abrupt end to our undoubted drift toward admitting Red China to the UN. We would no longer feel that we had to speak softly on this subject to allies and neutrals. Some of these not willing to go whole hog and eject Russia from their capital cities, might well decide that one Communist monster around the premises was sufficient.

In addition, de-recognition of the Soviet Union would go further [illegible] modernization of Russian agriculture and industries. Both Russia and Red China have trouble feeding their populations. This could not happen if they were advanced in the use and possession of fertilizer and farm machinery. It is significant that the only large segment of illiterates in Russia is on the farm. The USA is so soft-hearted that food and the means of raising it will never be denied to Russia as long as any exchange of ideas and persons goes on.

Russia [illegible] whole catalog of [illegible] spectaculars [illegible] even. It got its start by imitation of West Europe and America after World War I, and today much of the progress comes from copying American machines and designs. Incredible as it is, after 16 years of the cold war, we still do not have an export policy that hurts Russia.

At this writing, committees of both Senate and House are trying to work out a formula. The Kennedy Administration, to give it full credit, is still trying to tighten the outflow of useful articles to Russia. The American government and economy is such that this is more difficult than it usually allowed. The Commerce Department has thousands of American manufacturers nagging and wheedling for foreign markets. The Sino - Soviet bloc included. The State Department hopes eternally that trade will somehow open the gates of goodwill between nations. The Defense Department alone takes the hard-boiled attitude of giving the Reds as little as possible for use against us.

Only a withdrawal of recognition would isolate Russia from the products which American firms, or their overseas subsidiaries, send to Yugoslavia, Poland and beyond.

AFTER 29 YEARS

NLSC Expansion, History Traced

Northeast Louisiana State College, celebrating its 29th homecoming Friday and Saturday, has had phenomenal growth in enrollment and physical plant, and a review of the College's history reveals legislative acts in the years 1928, 1934, 1950, and 1960 authorizing significant developments.

At the regular session of the state legislature in May, 1928, Senator W. C. Boone of Claiborne and Bienville Parishes, the 27th Senatorial District, introduced a bill providing for the establishment of junior colleges by parish school boards. Known as the "Junior College Law," Act 173 was adopted at the request of the late Superintendent T. O. Brown, the Ouachita Parish School Board, and other Ouachita citizens.

Basing its actions on this bill, the Ouachita Parish School Board organized the Ouachita Parish Junior College District on November 9, 1928, and on the same date called a special election in the new district for the purpose of voting a special tax of one mill for a period of ten years for the construction, equipment, operation, and maintenance of a junior college.

The election was held December 12, 1928, and was carried by an overwhelming majority. Two suits filed by taxpayers to test the constitutionality of Act 173 of 1928 were favorably decided by December, 1929.

LAND PURCHASED

The concerted efforts of civic clubs and the Chamber of Commerce continued by dint of purpose through 1930 for the organization of the junior college, and on January 24, 1931, the Ouachita Parish School Board purchased 38.1 acres for the junior college site, which had been selected by a joint session of the School Board and the Ouachita Parish Police Jury.

The price paid for the initial land purchase was $22,860. The first building was commenced in February, 1931, and was completed and equipped at a cost of approximately $327,140, making the total value of land, building, and equipment to be $350,000.

In 1934, the college became affiliated with Louisiana State University under Act 231 of the State Legislature. This act, Senate Bill 175, was sponsored by James A. Noe of Monroe, then senator from the 30th Senatorial District.

This bill approved an agreement between the board of supervisors of LSU and the Ouachita Parish School Board establishing a Northeast Center of the Louisiana State University and Agricultural and Mechanical College.

In 1950, the State Legislature passed Acts 527 and 528, Senate Bills 306 and 307, which provided for the expansion of Northeast Junior College to a four - year institution, its transfer from the LSU Board of Supervisors to the State Board of Education, and for changing its name to Northeast Louisiana State College.

Sponsors of these two acts were Senator John F. McCormick of West Monroe and the 30th Senatorial District, Senator Brooks Oliver of Bastrop and the 29th Senatorial District, and Senator Ralph E. King of Winnsboro and the 33rd Senatorial District.

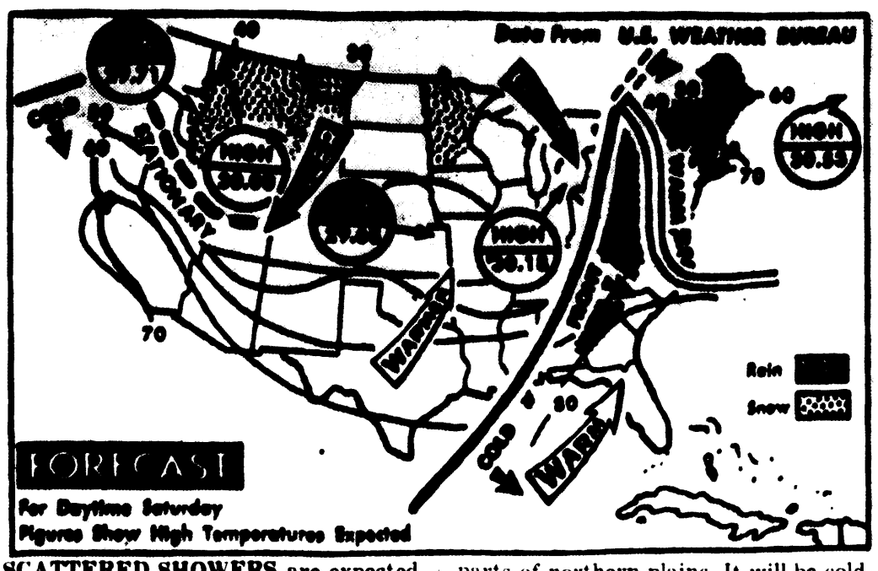

In 1960, House Concurrent Resolution 14 authorized the State Board of Education to establish a graduate school at Northeast State. The resolution was sponsored by Senator Jamar W. Adcock of Ouachita and Jackson parishes, Representative Mike Jean Jr. of Ouachita Parish, and Representative Lawrence Gibbs of Ouachita Parish. The State Board of Education established the master's degree program in education effective in June, 1961.

NOTING SEGREGATION

Alexandria Judge Orders Signs Up

ALEXANDRIA (Special) — District Judge Walter M. Hunter of Rapides Parish Friday ordered Continental Southern Trailways to replace signs segregating Negro and white facilities at the Alexandria bus terminal.

Hunter signed a temporary restraining order shortly after Dist. Atty. Jean Pharis requested it in a suit that also seeks a permanent injunction against the bus company.

The suit is intended to force compliance with state law and disregard an Interstate Commerce Commission ruling that called for the removal of segregation signs.

The Alexandria terminal had complied with the ICC regulations and removed the signs Wednesday.

Pharis said he filed suit when Alexandria Chief of Police Stafford J. Riche notified him that segregated facilities were no longer being maintained at the terminal.

Pharis said "I expect to follow the state law in this and other matters of this kind."

Hunter set a hearing on the injunction request for 10 a.m. Friday in the civil court room.

Named as defendants in the suits were Morgan W. Walker of Alexandria, president of the Company; R. W. McClendon, vice president and general manager and H. Paul Miller, the terminal manager.

McClendon said Friday he had not seen the order and did not know what the company would do in this case. But he noted that similar orders had been issued by courts in Baton Rouge and Monroe and the company had complied with them.

Youth Speaker Set At Monroe Baptist Church

Jerry Merriman, a graduate of Mississippi State University, where he pitched varsity baseball, is to speak to the youth of the First Baptist Church during the 9:45 a.m. Sunday School.

Merriman, now attending Southwestern Baptist Seminary at Fort Worth, Tex., is now serving with Dr. Chester Swor in a Revival commemorating Spiritual Emphasis Week.

Dr. Swor will give his final message at 5 p.m.

Dr. Swor has often enlisted Jerry Merriman to travel with him and speak to various youth groups.

At the regular 11 a.m. service the entire service will be broadcast over radio station KMLB.

Truck Driver Sentenced After Wreck

The driver of a butane truck which roared out of control Thursday afternoon through Monroe streets and several adjoining yards drew special attention yesterday from Judge W. M. Harper in municipal court.

He asked that the public take note of the case of 47 year old Stancil T. Lowery of Downsville, and its implications on the results of drinking and driving.

Lowery was convicted Friday of driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages and reckless driving and drew fines of $500 and costs or nine months confinement on each count. A compulsory sentence of 90 days was attached.

The police report indicated that Lowery crashed the truck off a wooden bridge on Breard's Alley and slashed through several nearby yards before finally coming to a halt wedged between two houses.

In a statement to the press after court Judge Harper asked that the case be given emphasis for the good it might do in the interest of public safety.

This particular fellow was very drunk and was operating a loaded tank truck of butane out in the eastern residential portion of the city," said the judge.

He was driving all over peoples' yards, in and between houses and finally wedged between two houses where the truck stopped. If it had exploded, there's no telling how many people would have been killed. Evidently, only God's protection kept this from happening."

In other activity, a case of obscenity against J. A. Faucett, 35, of 512 Avoyelles, was nolle prossed. Faucett was booked by Monroe police October 16, reportedly in connection with the sale of a publication, Tropic of Cancer, labelled as obscene. He was free under bond pending court action.

Conviction of simple battery and disturbing the peace brought fines of $25 or 25 days on each violation for Charles Dupree, 22, of 405 Ouachita. Also fined $25 or 25 days for simple battery was a 42 year old Transylvania man, James Maddox. Two counts of simple battery and a peace warrant against Negro Edward Baldwin, 19, of 310½ N. 19th St., were nolle prossed.

For illegal use of a weapon, a 37-year-old Negro woman, Bernice Jiles, of 1720 S. Wood, drew $25 or 25 days, while a bond of $200 on the same charge was forfeited by a Negro man, Jeremiah Johnson, 24, of 3505 Hasell.

A charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages was nolle prossed on David S. Jett, 21, of Smackover, Ark., but he drew a fine of $50 or 30 days for reckless driving.

Also for reckless driving, 34-year-old Negro Joe Crawford, of 1400 Grammont, was fined $25 or 25 days. Bonds of $25 were forfeited in five other cases under the same charge.

A Negro woman, Thelma Smith, 24, of 1729 DeSiard, was fined $25 or 25 days for public drunkness.

In other traffic court activity, Negro Willie Wright, of 1816 Adams St., $25 or 25 days on each count of reckless driving and driving without a valid state drivers license. Five bonds of $5 were forfeited in cases of running red lights, as were two others for running stop signs. One $2 bond was forfeited for overparking.

Federal Price Fixing Actions Are Dismissed

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge Robert Tehran dismissed price fixing indictments against vice presidents of two optical firms Friday, ruling that the government's antitrust division had charged them under the wong law.

Alton K. Marsters, Rochester, N.Y., vice president of Bausch & Lomb, Inc., and Victor D. Kniss, executive vice president of American Optical Co., Southbridge, Mass., were charged with violating two sections of the Sherman antitrust law.

Their counsel maintained that the Sherman law does not apply to persons acting solely in their capacity as corporation officials. They said section 14 of the Clayton Act is available as a basis for prosecution in such cases.

Judge Tehan agreed and dismissed the charges.

CWA, SALVATION ARMY

2 Conventions In Town Today

Two hundred Salvation Army delegates from Arkansas and Louisiana, and 75 Louisiana members of the communications Workers of America kick off seperate conventions under the Virginia Hotel roof today.

Both meetings will continue until Sunday noon.

The Army meet is a divisional young people's convention, while the CWA has respresentatives from nine cities.

CWA, Monroe Local 3414 and Miss Selena Burch, CWA north Louisiana director, will host the union convention. Local President A. R. Sikes said that featured speakers will include district director George Gill, of Atlanta, Ga., respresenting nine southeastern states' locals, Louisiana Public Service Director John J. McKeithen, and State Labor Council officials Victor Bussie and Gordon Flory, and CWA District 3 assistant director W. W. Brown.

Salvation Army main speakers will be Brig. C. William Jaynes, who is in charge of all youth work in 15 southern states, the District of Columbia and Mexico, and Col. Ernest Pickering of Atlanta, Ga., field secretary.

Young adults ranging in age from 14 to 25 will compose the majority of Army delegates, from 15 centers in the two-state area.

Jaynes will welcome them at the opening session at 9:30 a.m. today. The program will include several sessions with youth speakers. This afternoon, the dangers of Communism and its conflict with Christianity will be the topic of a workshop.

A youth demonstration is slated for tonight, followed by a religious "service of dedication" Sunday.

Salvation Army divisional secretary Maj. Warren H. Fulton of New Orleans said that "many of the young adults attending this convention will someday become officers of the Salvation Army. Twenty per cent of them are bandsmen and musicians. They form the body of our lay leadership throughout Louisiana and Arkansas."

Purpose of the annual convention is of an educational and spiritual nature for the Salvation Army's future leadership. "We have a tremendous youth program for character building. This meeting has nothing to do with the Army's welfare and relief programs."

Brig. Harry Ward of New Orleans, division commander and executive leader for this area, will be in charge of one of the meetings.

Registration for the Communication Workers of America's mid-year convention will begin at 8:30 a.m. today.

Ouachita parish state Representative Lawrence Gibbs will welcome the delegates at 9:30 a.m.

Guest speakers Brown, Bussie, Flory, McKeithen and Gill will address the delegates.

Four conference - type sessions will follow.

Eleven CWA local presidents will be on hand. Cities represented at the convention are New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Lafayette, New Iberia, Lake Charles, Alexandria, Shreveport, Bogalusa and Monroe.

Delegates are members of all communications industries, including radio, telephone and related work.

At 7 p.m., W. A. Smallwood, International Secretary - Treasurer from Washington, D. C., will be main speaker at a banquet.

The convention closes at noon Sunday.

JFK Urged To Improve Egypt Ties

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic Whip Hubert H. Humphrey, in a report from Europe, has advised President Kennedy there is hope for better relations with Egypt — but that newly independent Syria may be in for Communist trouble.

Humphrey reported that Syrian Communists, driven out by President Gamal Abdel Nasser during the rule of his United Arab Republic, are slipping back into Syria from Communist East Germany, where many had taken refuge.

Humphreys report to Kennedy on talks with Nasser and Syrian Premier Mamoun Kuzbari was part of a series received at the White House last week. The senator also urged the President to arrange an early meeting with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer as a first step toward a Berlin solution and ultimate U.S. associations in an Atlantic economic community. Humphrey is completing a month-long tour of Europe and the middle east.

Humphrey spent two hours with Nasser, with whom he had conferred in 1957 following the Suez crisis and the original U.S. refusal to help finance Egypt's Aswan Dam.

Reviewing his discussions for Kennedy, he urged that this country take definite steps to improve communications and increase the exchange of persons between the United States and Egypt. Humphrey, an expert on American agriculture, talked over Egypt's big food production problem with Nasser at length.

The senator reported, it was learned, that he saw real hope for more regular and improved relations between the United States and Egypt.

ARREST FISHER

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI)—George Fischer, a close friend of Adolf Eichmann and a senior Gestapo official in Greece during World War II, has been arrested in Damascus, Syria, the newspaper Maariv said Friday.

Fischer, also known as Alois Brunner, was arrested Sept. 28, but it was kept a secret, the newspaper said. Maariv said he was arrested as his bodyguards attempted to smuggle him out of a hospital where he was recovering from wounds suffered Sept. 17 when a bomb exploded in his hand and injured his face.

CHILLY WEATHER didn't dwarf the spirit of Northeast State fans as they entered Brown Stadium last night to open today's homecoming with a picnic and pep rally. The group here is being served by Delta Demeter Fraternity, part of the event's committee, headed by Edward H. Allen of the Agriculture faculty. (Northeast photo by V. A. Mott)

IN ANTARCTICA

Icebreakers Take Aim At Ice Pack

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand (AP)—Two American icebreakers prepared today to try for history's earliest penetration of the formidable 70-mile ice pack surrounding Antarctica.

The U.S. Navy's Glacier and the Coast Guard's Eastwind will try to batter a pathway through the billions of tons of ice almost a full month earlier than any nation has opened the sea approach in any previous Antarctic "summer" season.

If successful, the two ships will have shown the way to a permanent system of getting cargo ships through the ice early with vital equipment for the Antarctic expeditions—thus reducing the need for more expensive air freighting in the early stages of operations.

The ice, which forms on Antarctica's stormy seas during the long winter when temperatures far inland range down to more than 100 degrees below zero, must be broken up yearly to allow the return of support ships for American scientific and weather-watching activities on the ice-capped continent.

Even during the so-called summer, inland temperatures can range down to the minus 40s.

The try by the icebreakers marks the mounting of a second major phase of the Navy's "Operation Deep Freeze 62" an operation that will involve 3,000 men, 10 ships and more than 30 aircraft by the close of the continent's September-March summer.

The Eastwind is to shove off Monday and the speedier Glacier Thursday.

This second phase of "Deep Freeze"—the Navy's supporting operation for the most ambitious scientific program ever attempted by the United States in the Antarctic in a season's phase.

The first phase—involving, aircraft activities to and within the 5½ million square mile continent—began in late September.

Reporting on this year's airlift, officials said four C130 Hercules planes began arriving at McMurdo Sound in late September. They brought key personnel to help launch this year's extensive scientific effort sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

The Navy C130s also are helping to resupply stations far inland from the main U.S. base at McMurdo Sound. The Byrd Station 600 miles away and the South Pole Station 800 miles distant.

Since late September the aircraft have carried 600 tons of supplies and equipment to the isolated stations from stores brought to McMurdo last year. They plan to deliver an additional 2,400 tons in coming months.

Five Firms Get $47 Million In U.S. Contracts

NEW YORK (UPI)—Five leading American corporations Friday announced the receipt of over $43 million in Air Force and $4 million in Army contracts.

The Air Force contracts went to General Motors Corp. — $17.748 million for T56 turboprop engines and related material for C130 aircraft. Martin - Marietta Co. received a $17,040,000 contract for the Titan intercontinental ballistic missile.

International Telephone & Telegraph Co. received a $6 million supplemental Air Force contract for research and development studies on world-wide communications, while Radio Corp. of America received a $2.5 million contract for a ballistic missile early warning system documentation program.

HOMECOMING

Bonfire, Rally Start Celebration

Today's homecoming at Northeast Louisiana State College was sparked last night by plenty of merriment in Brown Stadium and a pep rally around a mammoth bonfire on the parade field.

A picnic was in store for Northeast students, faculty, staff and their families to open the gala affair, chairmaned by Edward H. Allen, assistant professor of animal industry at Northeast.

Serving on Allen's committee were F. H. Holdeman, assistant professor of agricultural engineering, Hurvie Moak, superintendent of buildings, and Demeter, national professional agriculture fraternity.

Abundance of food was matched with an equal amount of homecoming spirit. During the meal the cheerleaders, headed by Tommie Stockstill of St. Joseph, took over for a display of hearty yells, then presented President George T. Walker, who welcomed the large group who could not be discouraged by the chilly night.

He also presented the homecoming court, Queen Pansy Riser, maid of honor Kirby Mooney, and maids Sonya Bowden, Sylvia Hayden, Linda Lane, Judy Reagan and Tommy Stockstill.

Then it was time to move the scene to the big bonfire around which the cheering squad danced to music by the ROTC Band. The frolic continued with yells and pep songs from Indian fans.

Featured against the bright glow of the fire were three Indian braves, dressed in colorful array, complete with brilliant-hued headdress, who danced to the rhythm of the tom tom. A fire hoop specialty provided a daring and spectacular climax to their performance.

Coming in for a generous share of applause were the ROTC Band and Miss Stockstill's cheering squad including Linda Lane, Jeanie Duffey, Kathy Harbert, Judy Wilhite, Judy Edmonson, Dinah Lewis and Teddy Dixon.

Postal Group, Auxiliary Slate District Meet

The Louisiana Postal Supervisors will convene with the Ladies Auxiliary to hold a district meeting at the Virginia Hotel Sunday at 10 a.m.

Superintendent of mails at the Monroe Post Office, J. E. Peters, who is also president of the local branch of Postal Supervisors Association will welcome the supervisors, members of the Ladies Auxiliary, and guests.

Dwight D. Vines, assistant professor of business administration at Northeast Louisiana State College, will be the featured speaker and will talk on "Communications in Supervision." Vines is a member of Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society L.S.U., Pi Omega Pi National Honorary Business Fraternity and an outstanding business graduate, Northwestern State College.

He is the coordinator for Business Management Institute and coordinator for management workshop on employment Security for this area in addition to his regular college duties.

The after dinner speaker will be H. E. Packard, Dalla- Regional Safety Officer, Post Office Department. He will speak on the "Post Office Department's Safety Program and the Effective ways of Presenting the Program Locally."

Packard has had many years of experience in private industry in transportation and safety, in addition to his wide postal experience.

An opportunity will be given the supervisors to question each of the speakers on their subjects.

Prior to adjournment, a separate business session will be held by the Ladies Auxiliary and the supervisors.

Fourth Term For Adenauer Is Predicted

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer patched up a coalition agreement for a new coalition government with the Free Democrats, but he faced a showdown in his own Christian Democratic party Saturday on whether the pact is acceptable.

The plan worked out with the small conservative and nationalist Free Democrat party must be approved by a majority of the 242 Christian Democrat members of the Bundestag.

Many Christian Democrats were saying openly that the 85-year-old chancellor sacrificed their interests to stay in office.

The steering committee of the Christian Democrats in Parliament unanimously approved the new compromise, however. Political circles were predicting Adenauer will be elected to a fourth term, probably next Tuesday.

Adenauer, the only chancellor this country has known in its 12-year history, agreed to go along with the Free Democrats to get their support for his reelection. He can no longer rely exclusively on his own Christian Democrat party since it lost its majority in the Sept. 17 general election.

After only a brief meeting he was reported to have offered Erich Mende's Free Democrats five ministries although they hold only 66 of the Bundestag's 499 seats, and promised to resign some time before his new term expires.

Adenauer was said to be under discreet pressure from the Western allies to settle the political stalemate. President Heinrich Luebke, who must propose a chancellor to the Bundestag, made no secret of his impatience.

Physicist Urges Big Bomb Tests

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Nuclear physicist A. D. Suttle Jr. told President Kennedy Friday our large nuclear bombs, 6 to 10 times cleaner than Russia's, could be tested without any real fallout threat.

He urged Kennedy in a telegram to push atmosphere testing to protect the nation and develop a cleaner bomb for peaceful purposes.

Suttle, director of the Mississippi Reasearch Commission, said some of the nuclear bombs in the U. S. stockpile were 95 per cent free of materials that produce radioactive fallout.

He said if the United States tested in the Pacific zone, much more of the limited fallout "would decay in the upper atmosphere before the population was exposed."

Kennedy said in his statement Thursday the United States was preparing for possible atmospheric testing for free world security and the fallout would be held "to an absolute minimum."

Suttle said in an interview it was the policy of the Atomic Energy Commission and its contractors to develop cleaner explosives for low cost energy. He said most testing was necessary for this.

"It is my sincere hope that the administration not only allow, but encourage these developments of clean explosives," he said.

"They not only have tremendous military importance, but also offer unlimited quantities of very low cost energy that can be safely used for peaceful purposes."

Suttle said considering present United States technology and allowing for no improvement by testing, the U. S. would have to shoot from 6 to 10 times the amount of explosives the Russians have fired to equal their radioactive fallout.

"Considering the advanced state of technology and the location of U. S. tests, I feel U. S. atmospheric shots would not materially alter the fallout burden of the atmosphere," he said.

The nuclear expert said should the United States, contrary to its present policies, fire a 100 megaton device it probably would contain only 5 megatons of fallout producing debris.

"The recent Russian explosion released an estimated 30 megatons," he said.

The experts, Suttle said, generally concede that large Russian devotes are one half fission, or fall out producing, and one half fusion, or non-fallout producing.

"The U. S.," he said, "has announced in scientific papers on the plowshare program, which is dedicated to peaceful uses, that the U. S. has clean devices composed of only 5 per cent fissionable materials.

"The remainder of the energy comes from clean fusion reactions."

Suttle said the materials for fission materials cost about $11,150 per pound and fusionable materials cost only $130 per pound.

"We can see," he said, "the Russians are prepared to pay a high price to conduct their test program and are relatively indifferent to improving their technology for economic and peaceful purposes.

"The fissionable fuel in the large Russian device probably exceeded $33 million."

SPORT TALK

By JACK GATES

We are putting out more columns this week than we had planned, but we have received much response from both sides of the fence since the first appeared Wednesday. It is always good to get something out in the open that has been seething for a period of time. Once it is seen in its true perspective, changes that are necesary can be made to the benefit of all, including newspapers.

Despite some accusations the other way, we have never thought we knew everything about everything and we have never said we didn't make mistakes.

As in officiating football games, many judgment decisions must be made in newspaper work also and a lot can be made wrong. Most of us can always look back and see where a different decision would have improved the situation — but there is no going back.

We are going to print a couple of letters today — parts of which we agree with and parts of which we disagree. But we have respect for both writers.

The first letter is from Jake Ussery, who operates a Pharmacy as well as officiate at football games. Frankly, we are pleased to hear from Jake and we believe he makes many good points in his letter. So here it is:

Dear Mr. Gates:

"I am prompted to write to you in reference to your article, Sport Talk, in the Wednesday Monroe Morning World under the title "Football Officiating" — because of my disagreement with some of the statements made and also because of inferences made that are misleading to those reading your article.

The entire tone of your article infers that football officials in carrying out their responsibilities in administerng the game are at times directly responsible for injuries and death of some players. You could not be further from the truth. Let me say this in the beginning — our first and foremost concern in football officiating is protecting the physical welfare of the players. Everything else in officiating is secondary to [illegible]

Football officials in this area and other areas meet one night each week for a minimum of two hours at which time discussion is held on football rules and mechanics of the game. These meetings begin in July and continue through November. During this period of time, an examination is given by Mr. Muddy Waters, Commissioner of High School Athletics in Louisiana. Every official must pass this examination before he can officiate in a high school football game. All our local officials DID pass this examination and I might add that I doubt whether you or the majority of the fans could because of the complexity of football rules and the differences that exist in interpretation of high school, college and professional play. But then you are NOT a football official and one could not expect you to know as much about the rules or interpretation as a registered official.

This leads me up to the part of the article in which you state: "We can say without reservation that officiating on all levels this season has been the worst we've seen." May I suggest that you immediately contact the local coaches and some of the players in our area for an expression of their opinion. I can just as emphatically state to you that over the past ten years that I have been associated with football officiating, that it has continued to improve year after year because of the conscientious effort given by those who work the games to [illegible] better and more efficient. We the official are most concerned that the game be worked as perfectly as possible. Still we are only human and fouls may occur outside the vision of all the officials. You might note that in order to give more coverage of the field of play, professional, college and some high school games are worked using five officials on the field (an extra back judge). Naturally this gives better coverage of the play — particularly on plays that become spread out. And possibly more fouls can be picked up using five officials. However, we are not yet ready for five officials on the field in high schols in this area for several reasons.

"Now may I comment briefly on some of the plays you use in your article. If you will review a few games as to yards assessed for penalties, you wil most always find one team more aggressive than the other. This aggressive play cannot be termed "dirty football" — because the players are coached to be aggressive. That is the game of modern day football. Teams like LSU, Ole Miss, Notre Dame, Oklahoma and some high schools are most always penalized more than their oponents because they are aggressive teams.

"On the plays that you term pass interference — you mention holding of an opponents jersey by a defensive player prior to the pass being thrown. That is NOT pass interference but defensive holding. You cannot have pass interference by the defense until after the pass is thrown. The second play you mentioned is one where you say the receiver was tackled by the defensive player before the ball reached his area. You see this play quite often and the official must make a judgement call as to whether the tackling was simultaneous with the received touching the ball — if so, this is NOT pass interference. And the third play, you mention tripping of a receiver before the ball reached him. If such tripping is intentional, it would be pass intereference. However, if both receiver and defender are making a bona-fide attempt to get to the ball, then any accidental contact would be ignored by an official. Here is a point that many fans miss on so called pass interference plays. The defense is just as entitled to get to the ball by legal action as the receiver. It is only when the defense plays the player instead of the ball that most pass interference occurs. And now to the last play that you mention in your article — any defensive player may use any legal method of tackling to bring down the offensive player in possesion of the ball. Sometimes this results in gang - tackling as per LSU. This is legal and should not infuriate the ball carrier to a point of committing a personal foul himself.

"I might add at this point that most officials use the method of Mr. Cavette of the Southeastern Conference and find it works very well at times. However, none of us have figured out a clever comment that will stop the action of a 210 - pound tackle in mid-air.

"In closing let me commend you for bringing to the attention of the public the increase in the number of injuries and deaths in football this year. We cannot afford to have any of the young athletes permanently injured or killed. I assure you once again that officials are more concerned than anyone in seeing that no such injuries occur. We will continue to work toward the goal of eliminating all unnecessary roughness in football play by improved officiating technique.

OTHER LETTER

The other letter is from Robert Ervin, West Monroe insurance man and a big West Monroe High school football team booster. So here is the part of the letter we feel that Mr. Ervin wouldn't mind being printed:

I probably 'howl' as much or more than any other 'partisan' fan (and I'm partisan toward West Monroe) about the 'decisions' of the officials . . . and more often than not the decisions are 'right' rather than 'wrong.' If they 'penalize' my team, of course, I'm offended . . . 'penalize our opponent' and I'm joyful. Normal penalties, that is . . . but there should be no 'partisanship' on the part of officials . . . though sad to relate, you can usuall tell from 'which school' which official may have been graduated!

An 'official' should be completely 'unbaised and impartial' . . . just as you are, Mr. Gates . . . for being a newspaper man you must also be 'impartial' in your attitude toward 'news.' I was 'surprised' and 'delighted' at your comments about 'officials.' The comment I felt was long past due.

Now don't be offended if I now complain just a bit about 'other matters' . . . for . . . just as there is a 'tendency' among 'officials' to be 'partisan' in favor of the school of which they may be an 'alumnus' . . . in some cases . . . there is a 'tendency' in the columns of your publication to discount our fine athletic teams produced here in the West Monroe High School! Perhaps you are not aware of this . . . you did not seem to be aware of it last year when you talked to our QB Club . . . assuring us that 'our sports columns' would 'always be fair.' While your 'intentions' may have been good . . . and you know what that road is paved with! . . . and you, personally, may be a resident of, and loyal to, our fine 'community' . . . the evidence of my complaint is right here before me in today's 'World' . . . Thursday, November 2 . . . and it appears in the 'summary' under the pictures of the three 'local boys' . . . and this is what was said:

". . . West Monroe High goes to Shreveport to encounter Bossier City . . . While Ouachita, with a 1-3 1-AAA mark, is out of contention, the high flying Rebels of West Monroe have a chance to tie Woodlawn of Shreveport for the conference lead . . ."

Now, Jack, let's admit it . . . the statement does indicate you don't follow West Monroe very closely . . . for the 'tie' already exists! Byrd, with no respect whatever for you 'newspaper men' who dubbed Woodlawn — a darn good team — the 'Cinderella team', and the 'Team called Desire,' and other fnaciful titles, ripped them apart some two weeks ago, and provided the Rebels with the 'tie' you now say we may have a chance to earn by playing Bossier City!

You see Jack, 'If' we can defeat Bossier, and 'If' Bossier then wishes to give us the 'championship' by defeating Woodlawn . . . we would need only to defeat Fair Park to earn our 'most successful season', and the 'first District title' ever to be gained by West Monroe!

The sad fact is that West Monroe, as yet, has no 'winning tradition' . . . and you fell into the normal 'pitfall' by 'assuming' that only titles are won by brilliant, colorful, teams . . . East of Ouachita . . . West of Red River!

Its been my 'thought' this year that the Senior Personnel of our Squad would be measurably added by 'improved' public notice! Take Cline Averette . . . out for the season with a bruised leg muscle . . . not a word said about him, despite several fine stories about another fine lad out by reason of injuries at another local school — until the matter was specifically requested! Did you know that Woody Woodcock, one of our 'finest seatbacks,' and one of our best on 'defense' is 'out' (at least for the Bossier Game) with a 'bruised back'? Little 'credit' has as yet been given our Senior QB . . . Newton . . . and several colleges are interested. A casual note of interest might concern Liner, our Senior FB . . . all 205 pounds of him. There is 'tradition' here . . . the boy's Uncle made College history' at Tech . . . and its hoped that he will follow in the big feet steps . . . of this 'Uncle.' So 'dedicated' was Tackle Richard Cook, it seems, that he played the beginning games of the season with a 'fractured neck.' Guard Barry White's performance against Byrd is still the talk of the school . . . and Jewel McBroom played one of his better games against Ouachita . . . with a 'broken left hand.' And Butch Lobraoro . . . whose 'room keys' to various colleges now have to be filed in alphabetical order . . . deserves a break!

And so, Jack . . . 'thanks' for your discussion of 'officials' . . . BUT . . . give our personnel 'a little break'! Did you know that despite the fact that in 1957 we won the mythical 'Twin City Championship', and in 1959 graduated the famed Jerry Stovall, and in 1960 had an 8-3 record . . . local 'experts' have selected more 'All - City' players from a fine school which had but little more than a 50 per cent win record of Conference games? All of them fine boys, of course but . . . someone always forgets to put the 'West' in 'West Monroe' . . . which is what I'm trying to do in writing you this note.

ROBERT

In a sidepart of the letter Mr. Ervin mentioned that West Monroe was picked 20-1 over Bossier City in last night's game, which has not been played at this writing. What the 20 to 1 pick was is simply this: 20 sports writers and sportscasters in Louisiana thought West Monroe good enough to win the game and only one thought Bossier would win. [illegible] vote has nothing to do with the score [illegible] rious writers believe [illegible]

On the league [illegible] ured before last night [illegible] here is the way [illegible] Woodlawn had a 4-1-0 record [illegible] per cent. West Monroe [illegible] per cent. So West Monroe [illegible] to beat Bossier last night to tie for the lead, before [illegible] game. West Monroe was [illegible] a half a game behind Woodlawn simply because Woodlawn had played more league games than West Monroe at that time.

The injury of Cline Averette was duly noted in both News-Star and World and his picture was used in the World last week noting that he was lost by [illegible]

Woodcock's injury [illegible] in both papers [illegible] have their own [illegible] revealing injuries [illegible] sure of just how bad [illegible] is Neville's policy [illegible] for example is not [illegible] juries except as in [illegible] Robert Payne recently [illegible] boy is not able to [illegible] ally, we see nothing [illegible] this as it doesn't give the opposing coach a chance [illegible] are not [illegible]

NEVILLE HALFBACK Mike Wilson, subbing for the injured Robert Payne, romped for nine yards on this play and a first down at the Neville 32 late in the opening period of the Tiger's game with Lake Charles here last night. Tigers Trample Wildcats 18-6 For Eighth Victory

Neville High practiced for [illegible] season closing grudge match [illegible] with Ouachita Parish High and [illegible] following crack at the Double A state title by seizing sufficient opportunities to subdue plucky AAA Lake Charles 18-6 here last night in the annual homecoming clash.

Roberts and Mike Wilson crashing into paydirt in the second and third quarters to roll up an 18-0 lead before Lake Charles could score.

When the Wildcats did tally it came on an eight yard pass from quarterback Alvin King to halfback Harry Clark with nine seconds left in the game.

Roberts got the first one early [illegible]

[illegible] Saget was the passing standout [illegible] hitting five of eight [illegible] for 82 yards. Bryant caught three aerials for 47 yards.

Neither team could get rolling [illegible] in the first quarter and [illegible] then punting.

But late in the period Bryant recovered McNabb's fumble at the Wildcat 25 and the Tigers were off.

It took them only four plays to punch across the score, with the Tigers' super-duper pass [illegible] accounting for the [illegible]

After slugging down to the 14, Saget flipped a short one to Bryant at the six. The end then lateraled to Roberts coming fast to the right and the speedy fullback simply scooted into the end zone.

A run up the middle for the extra point failed and the Tigers led 6-0 with 11:29 to play in the second quarter.

A short kicking game followed after the TD until Howard picked off a King pass at the Neville 45 and behind a lot blocking help rambled down to Wildcat 54.

Again it took the Tigers four plays to score.

An incomplete pass and a running play got to the 32 then Jones tossed to Roberts for 20 yards and a first down at the Lake Charles 12.

On the next play Wilson burst through the middle of the Wildcat [illegible] of would-be tacklers who just could not bring him down and skipped into the end zone.

Jones tried to run the PAT but was swarmed under and with 2:04 to play before the half Neville held its 12-0 lead.

Neville opened the third quarter with a bang. On the second [illegible] after the kickoff Roberts took a pitchout at the Tiger 33 [illegible] behind an impregnable wall of black-shirted blockers raced [illegible] yards to score the third and [illegible] touchdown.

[illegible] the run for the point after failed and Neville had assumed [illegible] impressive 18-0 lead with 11:13 left to play in the third.

Neville moved to the Lake Charles 16 later in the period when Bryant made a great diving catch of a Saget pass that came all the way from the 50. But the Tigers were halted here.

An almost unbelievable series of pass interceptions by both [illegible] took up much of the remaining time in the third period and a good bit of the fourth.

There were five altogether with Neville copping three and the Wildcats two.

About midway in the final stanza the Tigers, with Saget at [illegible] punched all the way to the Lake Charles 28 where the Wildcats took over on downs.

From this point the [illegible] yard in 11 plays [illegible] of reserves and scored their only touchdown.

DeMary was the big gun in the drive carrying on a total of seven of the 11 plays.

After crunching down to Neville's eight where the Tigers stiffened, King tossed to Clark in the end zone on fourth down.

The snap from center was bad on the PAT attempt and a swarm of Neville tackles flowed over the kicker.

Byrd Stops Ouachita 27-0 On Tremendous Defense

SHREVEPORT (Special) — The Byrd High Yellow Jackets scored their fourth straight shutout victory, and remained in 1-AAA dogfight by bombing Ouachita's Lions 27-0.

Byrd humbled Ouachita with a relentless defense and turned up with a passing attack to complete the rout. Quarterback Gerald Green passed for 143 yards including a 60 yard TD play to Alton Thomas in the first quarter.

Thomas scored three touchdowns and gained 99 yards rushing. He scored on runs of five and one yards in the second quarter as Byrd held a 20 halftime lead.

Garry Pitman scored the other Byrd TD on a two yard plunge in the third quarter. Bill Bond kicked three extra points.

Byrd held Ouachita to -17 yards rushing and two first downs. Lion quarterback Dennis Warner was able to complete five passes for 32 yards, but that was about all the offense they could muster.

Halfback Thomas proved that he was all he was supposed to be and then some. He gained 94 yards on 18 carries in the first half.

In the first quarter with Ouachita in control of the ball on Byrd's 31, Thomas recovered a Lion fumble to get the Jackets started on their first touchdown drive.

Moments later, the speed merchant hooked up on his 60 yard TD run.

In the second quarter, Byrd scored on drives of 56 and 86 yards. Thomas scored after both.

Pittman's score in the third period capped of a 44 yard drive. The do-it-all Thomas again was instrumental in this drive as he got it all started with the only pass interception of the night.

Byrd played their reserves much of the second half.

Defensive standouts for the Yellow Jackets were end Terry Cadenhead, and tackles Arnold Cannon and Sam Brown.

For Ouachita Jack Trimble, Bubba Via, and Roy Walton were the workhorses on defense.

One of the few bright spots for the Lions was the punting of Trimble. The rangy end kicked six times for a fine 40.2 average.

Amateur Still Leads $10,000 Almaden Open

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Amateur John Lotz, 21-year-old junior at San Jose State College, fired his second straight sub-par round Friday to take the 36-hole lead in the $10,000 Almaden Open Golf Tournament.

Lotz added a 4-under-par 68 to Thursday's opening round 67 for a 135 total and a two-stroke lead over Larry Mowry, pro from Bonita, Calif., who had shared the first round lead. Mowry had a 70 Friday for 137.

Tied for third place were defending champion Charlie Sifford of Los Angeles and Bill Eggers of Portland who lost in a playoff to Sifford for the title here last year. Sifford had a 70 for his 139 total while Eggers posted a 69.

Lotz was one-under-par on the front nine with a 35 over the Almaden course as a result of birdies on the first and third holes where he sank putts of 4 and 3 feet respectively. He had a bogey on the eighth when he overshot the green and came back short on his return approach.

Ken Venturi of San Francisco, winner here in 1959, shot a 70 Friday giving him a 143 total. Former PGA champion Bob Rosburg had a 69 for 141. Rosburg, who lives in Palo Alto but plays out of Portland, had a 32 on the back nine, the best score for nine holes Friday. After Friday's play, the field was cut to the 50 leading pros and 16 amateurs. It took a score of 154 or better for a pro to stay in.

Boston Edges Dallas, 28-21, In Air Duel

BOSTON (AP) — Boston halfback Ron Burton tore 91 yards down the sideline on a kickoff return for the margin of a 28-21 Patriots American Football League victory over Dallas Friday night.

But the thriller wasn't decided until Boston defensive back Chuck Shonta batted down a pass in the end zone at the final gun after a 72-yard Cotton Davidson to Chris Burford aerial had put the Texans on the Boston 3.

Burton's electrifying flight along the chalk mark, made certain by Larry Garron's shattering block near midfield, came just 15 seconds after the Texans rallied for the second time to tie the score late in the third quarter.

Boston had to repeatedly fight off bids, the most dangerous at the conclusion, to duplicate last Sunday's 18-17 triumph at Dallas manufactured on a field goal as the gun sounded.

Mitchell, Paluck Will Be Admited To Play Sunday

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — Halfback Bobby Mitchel of the Cleveland Browns and defensive end John Paluck of the Washington Redskins will be free to play League games, an Army spokesman announced Friday.

Mitchell said he would have to check transportation schedules to determine if he could get to Cleveland and back to Fort Meade in time Monday after Sunday's game against Pittsburgh.

Paluck said he planned to be in New York for the Redskin game against the Giants.

Both professional football players reported here this week for Army duty.

An Army spokesman said Mitchell, Paluck and any other football players who report to Meade will be "entitled to week end leaves and passes the same as all other personnel."

He explained that as long as they are not on duty rosters they will be free to do as they please from 4:30 p.m. Saturday until 6 a.m. Monday.

The individual player's situation thus will vary from week to week, the spokesman said.

ENDS TITALIST HOPES

West Monroe Defeated By Bossier Team, 20-12

SHREVEPORT (Special) — Bossier City's talented backfield gave the Bearcats a 20-12 Homecoming victory over the West Monroe Rebels here last night, and just about sewed up the District 1-AAA championship for the Woodlawn Knights.

The Rebels' loss gave Woodlawn undisputed possession of first place. The Knghts, with only Bossier left to play, have only one district defeat, while West Monroe, Bastrop, Bossier and Byrd each have lost two district matches.

The Cats scored seven points in the first quarter and 13 in the second to gain a 20-0 lead before the Rebels could cross the enemy goal line.

West Monroe battled back to score one touchdown in the closing seconds of the first half and picked up another one in the third quarter, but the Cats' lead was never really in danger because both extra point attempts failed and the Rebels still trailed by eight.

'Cat halfback Rogers Reinowski got Bossier off to a 7-0 lead scampered 20 yards for a TD and Sonny Spataro kicked the extra point.

In the second stanza quarterback Ray Shewmake broke loose and rambled 40 yards through the Rebels' defense to add six more points to the 'cats' side of the scoreboard.

A few minutes later fullback Charlie Glover ended another Bossier scoring drive by bulling his way the last yard into the Rebels' end zone.

Spataro converted again to extend the Bearcats' advantage to 20-0.

Following the kickoff after Bossier's third TD, West Monroe finally got their offense to clicking and marched for their first score.

On this drive the Rebels were not only battling against Bossier's tough defense, but also against the ever - important element of time.

Quarterback Fred Newton moved to the airways to gain an advantage over the time element and look ofr an easier way by the staunch Bearcat defense.

His aerial attack was good enough to over - come Bossier's defenders and win the race with the clock by 21 seconds.

The TD toss was a six varder to star halfback Charlie Van Zile. was a screen pass from Newton to the same Van Zile that worked for 43 yards.

The fired-up Rebels did not cool off much during half-time and in the third quarter marched 80 yards for their second score of the night.

Bobby Brice did the honors on this touchdown, but the extra point again failed and the Rebels still were not in good striking distance.

Bossier started another strong drive mid-way in the last quarter, but the Rebel defensive wall threw up a goal-line stand that brought the 'Cats to a halt on West Monroe's one-yard line.

The Bearcats were on the move again when the game ended with them on West Monroe's 27.

Glover was the leading gainer with 111 yards on 18 carries and Reinowski picked up 84 yards in 14 tries.

Brice was the Rebels leading carrier, with 51 yards on 10 attempts, and fullback J. U. Liner contributed 47 on nine hauls.

2 U.S. Boxers Will Have To Miss Fights

LONDON (UPI) — The U.S. Amateur Athletic Union boxing team, victim of a surprising 10-0 shutout by Britain's amateur punchers Thursday night, learned Friday that heavyweight Cornelius Perry and featherweight Ralph Ungricht will miss the next competition.

The U.S. squad is scheduled to meet the English Amateur Boxing Association squad at Leeds next Monday.

But Perry, of Philadelphia, who was knocked out in the first round by English champ Billy Walker, suffered a cut mouth necessitating stitches. Ungricht, of Provo, Utah, had an ear puffed in losing to European feather champion Francis Taylor and the ear has been lanced.

In view of their absence, the program at Leeds may be reduced to eight bouts instead of 10.

Light-middleweight Roy Macmillan of Toledo, Ohio, suffered possible rib injuries in his second-round defeat by Derek Richards and is a doubtful starter at Leeds.

Southwestern Homecoming To Be TVed

NATCHITOCHES (Special) — More football fans will watch the 53rd meeting of the University of Southwestern Louisiana Bulldogs and the Northwestern State College Demons than any previous Gulf States Conference game in the history of the six - college league.

Two television stations, KLFY-TV, Channel 10 of Lafayette, and KALB-TV, Channel 5 of Alexandria, will telecast the Homecoming game from McNaspy Stadium in Lafayette, a night contest.

University of Southwestern Louisiana officials gave permission to the Alexandria station for the pickup from KLFY-TV Wednesday afternoon.

Attendance at games played by GSC members will set a new record this season and this is the second televised game for the Demons. Their opening game with Stephen F. Austin at State Fair Stadium in Shreveport is televised each year — and the NSC team hasn't lost a telecast game yet.

While Northwestern State and before an estimated crowd of more than 22,000 fans recently at State Fair Stadium in Shreveport, McNeese State College was walloping Mexico Poly before 30,000 Mexican fans in Mexico City. Last week the NSC team played before 31,500 fans at War Memorial Stadium in Little Rock where they met the powerful University of Arkansas Razorbacks.

It's been a good year for the GSC teams — and the three-game climax, for most of the league members, should be well attended and is a doubtful starter at Leeds.

Hennigan Is Big Key In Oiler Offense

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The guy American Football League clubs watch the closest is Charlie Hennigan, a 9.7 sprinter who just can't be covered by one man when going for a pass.

At least that's what George Blanda, the Houston quarterback who throws to Hennigan, says about it.

"No one man can cover him — he's got the best moves in the league and a real quick burst of speed," observes Blanda.

Before the Buffalo-Houston game last week, Coach Buster Ramsey revealed this defensive strategy.

"We're going to try and stop Charlie Hennigan. He's the big key. They like to throw to him on third down plays."

Despite the primed defense, Buffalo didn't stop Hennigan, who caught nine passes for 232 yards and two touchdowns.

In fact, no team this season has stoped the fleet thin man who is well on his way to the most yards on pass receptions of any player in professional football.

With 1044 yards on 43 catches, Hennigan should easily better 1500 yards and that would be the most yardage any pass receiver ever gained. Houston still has seven games to play.

Hennigan is from Minden, La., and played his college football at Northwestern Louisiana.

The Oilers got good reports on him and he made the club as a rookie last year despite two painful leg injuries and a shoulder injury that kept him out of two games. He snared 44 passes.

Three weeks ago at Boston Hennigan caught 13 passes for 272 yards — an American Football League record.

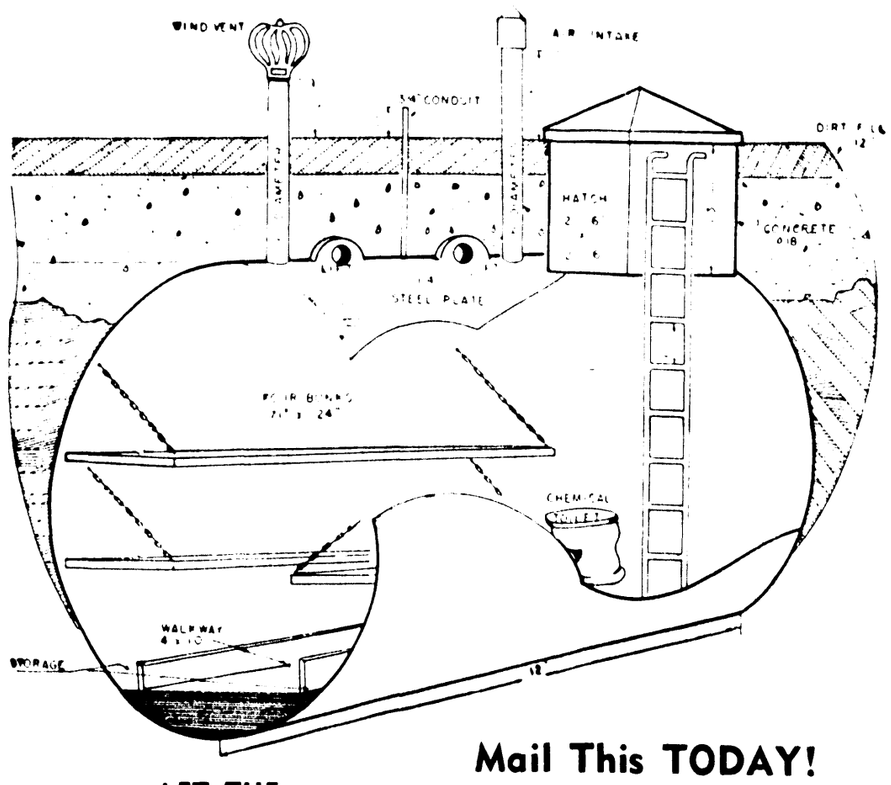

Only two men in pro football—Jim Benton of Cleveland in 1945 and Cloyce Box of Detroit in 1960 —gained more yards than that.

DESPITE INJURIES, ILLNESS

Northeast Gridders Set For Homecoming Game

Northeast State's football team will attempt to produce a fitting climax to the school's homecoming festivities tonight when it throws its fast-paced ground attack against Delta State, an eleven with even more impressive rushing credentials.

The contest, Northeast's 29th homecoming game, is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. in Brown Stadium.

NORTHEAST IS primarily a rushing team but end Gene Harbert (left), a sophomore from Bossier City, has caught several passes for the Tribe and will be one of the prime targets when Northeast goes to the air against Delta State tonight in Brown Stadium in the Indians homecoming tilt. A possibility on the throwing end of the aerial fireworks is quarterback Mundy Breazeale (right). The Philadelphia, Miss., freshman could see action in relief of Don Wattigny and Ronnie Myrick.

Old grads will see Northeast's hardest - running grid team in years, one that has averaged 234.4 yards a game on the ground. Coach Jack Rowan's Indians have scored 132 points while winning three games and losing four.

Delta State, coached by former Ole Miss grid star Horace McCool, has an even more glittering offensive record. The Statesmen, 5-2 for the season, are averaging 352.2 yards a game, 276.5 of them on the ground. They have scored 169 points.

The visitors from Cleveland, Miss., are expected to enter the game at near full strength while Northeast, although guard Don King has made an unexpected return to action, has two lettermen, one a starter, on the sidelines and several other players weakened by illness.

King, who suffered a wrenched elbow in last week's 27-20 victory over Southwestern, was expected to miss this week's game but showed up for practice Thursday and may see offensive action tonight.

Bob Tatum and Donnie Brunson, however, will miss the game. The Southwestern tilt was the last game of his Northeast career for regular center Tatum, who is scheduled to undergo surgery on an injured knee in a few weeks. Halfback Brunson has an injured shoulder.

Star fullback Willie Ragan, tackles Ross Nolan and Jim LaCoste and end Tommy Latham are expected to play but may be a bit out of condition since they missed several practice sessions this week because of flu.

Because of the absence of Tatum, Tom Harvey, 215-pound freshman from New Orleans is scheduled to start at center for Northeast. Billy Foster, an ex-guard, is scheduled to start at tackle but also may see action at the pivot spot.

Northeast, besides trying to win its fourth game and better last season's won-lost mark, will be out to gain revenge for the 7-0 licking administered by Delta State last fall, worst defeat suffered by the 1960 Indians. The 27-0 victory was the second in a row for the Statesmen over Northeast, who lead the series by a 6-3 count. Delta won a 14-13 verdict in Monroe in 1959.

The Tribe will also be out to continue a two -year string of homecoming victories. The Indians whipped Southwestern in 1959 and Northwestern last fall before the alumni.

Delta State's Les Henning, a halfback from Brookhaven, Miss., is the game's top individual ground gainer. The scatback has gained 454 yards rushing this season, well ahead of the second top Delta rusher, Billy Bowman, who has 291 yards.

Ragan is pacing the Northeast ground game with 373 yards. Quarterback Ronnie Myrick is second with 218 yards, Ken Newton has 210 and Al Ott 182.

Devone Payne, the team's top rusher in the Southwestern game, may start ahead of the flu-plagued Ragan at fullback. Payne picked up 99 yards on the ground last Saturday.

Delta State has had more success with passing than has Northeast but its top thrower, quarterback Sonny Hill, is slated to miss Saturday's battle because of injuries. But Bob Brumfield, who has completed eight of 18 passes for 132 yards, and Chester Norris are considered good passers. Delta has gained 540 yards through the air and Northeast 376.

For Ott, defensive halfback Don Blackwelder, quarterback Don Wattigny, guard Terry Brunet and the sidelined Bob Tatum, Saturday night's homecoming clash will be their last as Northeast players. The five seniors will serve as team captains in the game, as they have all season.

Pre-game homecoming activities will begin in Brown Stadium at 7:40 and will include a performance by the Delta State band, the arrival of Queen Pansy Riser and her court, and flag-raising ceremonies. Halftime activities will include a welcome by Northeast President George T. Walker, announcement of new alumni officers, presentation of the homecoming court and coronation of the queen.

Delta State Ready For Indian Battle

CLEVELAND, Miss. (Special) — With two tough opponents to meet back to back, the Delta State Statesmen journey to Monroe this weekend to face Northeast Louisiana State College in one of their toughest games for the 1961 season. Brown Stadium will be the scene for the 8:00 p.m. kickoff.

Head football coach Horace McCool will have his squad at full strength for the game as they suffered no injuries in their 22-8 win over University of Tennessee Martin Branch last week. The Statesmen now sport a 5-2 record for the season.

Delta State, ranked nationally last week in total rushing, rushing and defense, have now added to their total by amassing 418 yards against the Volunteers last Saturday. So far this season, the lads from this Delta school have racked up 1926 yards rushing, 540 passing for a total of 2466 yards. This makes an average of 352.2 yard per game.

The Statesmen have scored 25 touchdowns and 19 PAT for a total of 169 points as compared to their opponents 8 td's and 7 PAT for 58 points including one field goal. In the first down department the Statesmen have amassed 12[illegible] by rushing, 27 by passing and [illegible] by penalty. The seven opponents have managed only [illegible] first downs by rushing, 13 by passing and 5 by penalties.

Halfback Les Henning of Brookhaven, Miss., leads the squad in several departments. The fleet-footed back leads in rushing with a total of 4[illegible] yards gained in [illegible] carries for an average of [illegible] yard per carry and 64.8 yard per game. Running a close second is Billy Bowman, halfback from Ackerman, Miss. [illegible]

Henning also leads the Statesmen in pass receiving with eight receptions for 141 yards, keeping ahead of second place Gale Davis who has 111 yards on eight catches.

Henning also leads in two other departments including scoring and pass receiving combined. He leads in scoring and punting. The halfback lead all Delta State backs as he ran for two tallies last week to up his total to five touchdowns scored for the season. His 30 points put him back in the lead in scoring after being displaced one week by halfback Billy Bowman who has three TD's for 20 points, including two PAT. Finally, Henning lead in punting with seventeen punts for 613 yards for an average of 36.0 yards per punt.

The only department that Henning has left to his teammates is passing, which is being held down by the absent Sonny Hill who, before being forced out of action by a broken foot had thrown 20 passes, completed 11 of these for 222 yards. The eleven Statesmen hail from Baton Rouge, La.; [illegible] Ruleville, Miss.; Bob Brumfield who has thrown 18 passes and completed eight for 132 yards.

Following an open date, the Statesmen tangle with Louisiana College on Delta Field for their last home outing. Last season, the Wildcats clawed the Statesmen 10-6 while finishing an 8-2 [illegible] The Nov. 18 contest is [illegible]

5 Big Breaks Help Miami Win, 32 To 0

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Miami's Hurricanes turned a fantastic series of five big breaks into touchdowns that gave them a 32-0 lead, then coasted with third and fourth stringers to a 32-7 victory over Georgia Friday night.

Four of the breaks — a blocked punt, a fumble recovery and two pass interceptions — were self-made. The other was a freakish punt off the toe of Georgia's Jake Saye that flew straight up and rolled out of bounds for a one-yard loss.

Each time opportunity knocked, quarterback George Mira opened sensational sophomore passed for two touchdowns, ran for two more and set up the other with his bullet throws.

In the first quarter Saye got off his straight-up punt out of bounds on the Georgia 35 and Mira passed the Hurricanes down to the 2 from where Jim Vollenweider drove across.

Another Saye punt was blocked by Ben Rizzo at the Georgia 21 and Mira threw a nine yard touchdown to Nick Spinelli. A pass interception by Charley Yanda led to the third Miami score, on a one-yard dive by Mira, to give Miami an 18-0 lead at halftime.

Goldstein Is Given Two-Year Sentence

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — Richard Morris (Doc) Goldstein, a prominent [illegible] middleweight fighter half a dozen years ago, was given a two-year minimum sentence Friday by the State Board of Prison Terms and Parole.

Goldstein was convicted in Seattle of grand larceny in 1960 in connection with the sale of the same used car to two people. He went to prison earlier this year after appeal failed.

TWO EXPERIENCED Louisiana Tech linemen who will be in action against Southeastern Louisiana college at Hammond Saturday afternoon are guard Don Tippit (left) and tackle Andy Malone. Tippit is a senior three-year letterman and junior Malone has earned two monograms. Tech (4-2) will try to upset SLC (7-0) to stay in the thick of the scrap for the GSC title.

Canines Bid For 5th Title In Row

RUSTON (Special) — Louisiana Tech, with its inept running attack and spectacular passing show, moves into Hammond today at 2:30 p.m. to try and spoil Southeastern's Homecoming and knock the Lions from the unbeaten ranks.

Tech, having lost one Gulf States Conference game, is in a "must win" situation if it is to win or share the loop title for the fifth straight year.

Coach Joe Aillet's club got in some good practice licks this week with more enthusiasm shown than usual. All the cripples are back in harness and the Bulldogs should be in the best physical condition since the opener.

The Tech team left here at noon Friday, worked out at a McComb, Miss., high school stadium, and spent Friday night in that city before motoring into Hammond Saturday.

The Bulldogs' pro type offense features Mickey Slaughter, considered one of the finest passers in the country. The former Bolton High prepster has completed 59 of 84 pases for 628 yards and five TD's. His top target is Jerry Griffin, Springhill, who caught 34 for 339 yards and three touchdowns so far.

Slaughter has a pass completion percentage of .702. Both Slaughter and Griffin are juniors.

This Tech club is not like the Aillet machines of the past. He does not have the slashing ground attack of previous seasons and Slaughter's passing has carried the Canines a long way.

When the Bulldogs fell behind Tenessee Tech 10-7 in the third quarter last week, Slaughter clicked on five of seven passes to move 70 yards into position where three running plays from the four got the go ahead score.

Special buses will leave from here today carrying Tech fans to Hammond. The Bulldog gridmen are expected to have over 500 fans on hand for the big battle.

Running leaders Jack Lestage, Andy Farless and Paul Lebenne are well and will be on hand to offset Southeastern's emphasis on Slaughter.

Lestage is the man who [illegible] yards on a punt return to hand Southeastern its only [illegible] of the season last year. The entire Tech club has gained only 806 yards on the ground in [illegible] games this year, however.

The Lions would have an 18-game winning streak going except for last year's upset by the Bulldogs.

This year Southeastern has won seven straight with a 7-0 squeaker over Northeast and a 7-5 nudge of Pensacola Navy the only close ones. Tech lost to Arlington State 8-7 and Northwestern State 19-7.

Cousy, Russell Lead Boston To 112-98 Victory

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two of the Boston Celtics' old pros, Bob Cousy and big Bill Russell, combined to thwart the Philadelphia Warriors 112-98 in a National Basketball Association Eastern game Friday night.

Cousy, showing no signs of age at 33, fired in 27 points, set up a maze of fast breaks, and paced the Celtics' ball hawking. Russell, tallying 21 points, so closely guarded Wilt Chamberlain that there were times in the first period that the 7-footer just stood and watched in frustration.

Chamberlain racked up only 2 points, well under the 42 he has averaged the first five games of the season. Russell blocked more than a dozen shots by the [illegible]

Baton Rouge Police On Guard For Riots

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Police were on guard against any attempt by Louisiana State students to stage another mass demonstration Friday night in downtown Baton Rouge on the eve of the Mississippi-LSU game here.

Officers broke up a near riot Thursday night when some 600 LSU students held an impromptu pep rally on a street.

IN REGULAR SEASON

Rebels After 1st Victory In 3 Years Over Tigers

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Mississippi's second-ranked Rebels invade the Tigers' lair Saturday night in quest of their first regular season victory over Louisiana State in three years.

In fact, the Ole Miss Rebels have not beaten SU—ranked sixth in this week's Associated Press poll—at home since 1956.

The Johnny Vaught-directed Rebels, who have only yielded 13 points to six opponents, are a touchdown favorite.

Vaught, college football's winningest active coach next to Oklahoma's Bud Wilkinson, has yet to have a perfect season.

And the nemesis has always been the LSU Tigers.

Last year, the Tigers deadlocked the Rebels 6-6 at Oxford, Miss., to spoil an otherwise clean slate for Mississippi.

Mississippi hasn't even been able to cross the Tiger goal line in regular season games for three years. The only victory Mississippi owns over LSU since 1957 was the 21-0 triumph in the 1960 Sugar Bowl.

Vaught will send his three quarterbacks — Doug Elmore, Glynn Griffing and Perry Lee Dunn (perhaps the best No. 3 signal caller in the nation)—against a Tiger team headed by Lynn Amedee and Jimmy Fields.

Rebel fullback Billy Ray Adams will be expected to carry the brunt of the Ole Miss ground game.

The winner of the game will undoubtedly have first crack at no less than a half-dozen post-season classics — topped by the Sugar Bowl.

And the loser will still be very much in the bowl picture.

Southeastern Conference Commissioner Bernie Moore has banned artificial noisemakers for the Delta-Bayou clash, but the chants of 68,000 frenzied fans will undoubtedly rock the stadium.

The weatherman forecasts clear skies and cold weather by kickoff time at 8 p.m., CST.

Carroll Rolls Over Peabody For 28-7 Win

The Carroll High Bulldogs of Monroe clinched the sixth district Negro triple-A football championship last night in a 28-7 triumph over Peabody of Alexandria. It was homecoming for Carroll.

The Bulldogs struck quickly to score on the first eight plays of the game in a drive to the Warhorses' 20 from where quarterback Walter Thompson fired a touchdown pass to Julian Gray. Thompson added the first of four straight conversions for the Bulldogs.

It was a 7-0 game at the half, but Carroll bagged touchdown No. 2 in the third period when Minster Williams capped a 70-yard drive with a romp from the eight.

The Warhorses hammered to the Carroll 12 as the third period ended, and Eli Smith scored for the invaders at the beginning of the final period. Smith converted.

Then the Bulldogs struck back decisively. Thompson shot another touchdown pass to Gray on a play that covered 48 yards, and as time was running out sub quarterback Street pitched a TD pass to Thomas Harvey.

Kubek's Recall By Army Unsure

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Tony Kubek, shortstop of the world champion New York Yankees, was scheduled to be recalled by the Army Friday.

Relatives said Kubek was due to report to Ft. Lewis, Wash. Authorities at the Army base, however, could not confirm his arrival. At New York, the Yankees at first confirmed his induction but said later they knew only that it was for about this week.

Kubek and his bride of two weeks left Milwaukee last week for a leisurely drive to the West Coast.

Benton Knocks Out Sub In 3rd

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — George Benton, 160, Philadelphia, scored a technical knockout over Chicago Coursey, 169, Chester, Pa., just before the third round ended in the scheduled eight-round boxing feature Friday night at the New Blue Horizon.

Coursey took the place of Taylor (Hawk) Hill, Detroit, who failed to show up for the bout. A representative of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission announced it had suspended Hill indefinitely.

Northeast Gets Over Tech In Cross Country

Northeast State's cross country team, led by Buddy Eiland, defeated previously unbeaten Louisiana Tech, 24-33, in a four-mile run here yesterday afternoon.

Eiland traveled the course in 19 minutes and 14 seconds to spark the victory, first of the season for Northeast after an opening loss to Southeastern Conference champion Mississippi State. Tech's Bob Hayes was second with a 19:31 time.

Northeast's Bill Frye was third in 19:51 and teammate George Abbott finished in 20:00, good for fourth.

The loss was the first in five starts for Tech, which finished second behind Northeast in last fall's Gulf States Conference standings.

Coach Bob Groseclose's Northeast distance runners are scheduled to run in a meet at the University of Southwestern Louisiana in Lafayette next Saturday night.

The finish:

1. Buddy Eiland, Northeast, 19 14.
2. Bob Hayes, Tech, 19 31.
3. Bill Frye, Northeast, 19 51.
4. George Abbott, Northeast, 20 00.
5. Frank Bright, Tech, 20 20.
6. Earl Wright, Tech, 20 24.
7. Bill White, Northeast, 20 44.
8. Allen Laird, Tech, 20 24.
9. Bob Bryant, Northeast, 21 41.
10. John Baker, Northeast, 21 50.
11. David Hankins, Northeast, 21 54.
12. Bill Powell, Tech, 21 55.

Lions, La. Tech Play In Feature GSC Grid Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southeastern Louisiana tries to snap its victory drought against Louisiana Tech Saturday afternoon as the two clubs clash in this week's featured Gulf States Conference football game.

The Lions haven't beaten Tech since 1954.

Last year, Tech upset SLC and spoiled an otherwise perfect season for the Lions. The two clubs shared the 1960 GSC crown.

The other conference clash scheduled today pits Northwestern—the GSC's Cinderella team —and McNeese. In other games Northeast hosts Delta State and winless Southwestern Louisiana invades Pensacola Navy.

Louisiana Tech, a running club in past seasons, has turned into an aerial team with junior quarterback Mickley Slaughter. But Tech will be up against a team which has allowed only 2.8 points per game in seven contests—and not a single one via the air.

Your Woman's World

A BABY'S FIRST HOME as pictured by Child Craft is full of whimsical details. Wooden "friend" with pigtails and arms out-stretched to act as hangers is bigger than baby and will serve well into the toddler stage to encourage neatness habits. Also for fun is the bunny stool on the right. Both crib and storage units are smaller than average and would make it possible to fit entire setup into an alcove.

Young Ideas Seen Now In Nurseries

By BETTY PEPIS

There's a new look in nurseries today. They seem prettier as well as more practical and full of gay and whimsical ideas which, perhaps, are just as appealing to parents as to child. Just as well, too, for it is the elders who will get most fun from the room during the first few months.

A new scale to some recently introduced chests makes it posible to include an exceptional amount of storage even in the small alcove off a larger room. A Belgian inspired crib in this group by Child Craft is also smaller than usual (eight inches shorter and four inches narrower than the conventional crib) but still quite large enough for even an outsize child.

No matter how small the space selected for baby's first home, there need be no limit on the decoration. Brilliant color, for example, takes no room and can be used more lavishly than elsewhere in the house, for tiny tots are not disturbed by vivid tones as some grown ups might be. A strong sharp yellow is one suggestion, for research has shown its apt to be a baby's first color preference. Then, to, it can adapt to boy or girl.

There's plenty of room for whimsey, also. One way to add this is with some recently introduced small washable rugs. These come in intriguing shapes and colors: a white angel, for example, with pink wings, or a strawberry in realistic red or, even, animal shapes in the new pelt like fibers that wash clean in a machine.

Using toys decoratively while the child is too young to enjoy them for play is another nice note. In one particularly imaginative little room, a wallpaper "tree" grew up one corner and its branches reached to the ceiling. From them, were suspended (on hooks from the ceiling) lightweight animals of bamboo.

Nursery lamps, too, can contribute whimsey. Some new ones meant to be attached to the wall look like parasols. Table types have bases in the shape of a movable ferris wheel or come in pairs depicting a boy and girl on swings.

The marriage this morning in Our Lady of Fatima Catholic Church at 10:00 a.m. of Miss Mary Louise Danna and Wade Marshall Williams of Memphis, Tennessee, will climax numerous prenuptial courtesies to the couple. Father Richard Fale will officiate, and parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Joe R. Danna of Monroe, and Mrs. Albert Casey of New Orleans.

Immediately following the wedding rehearsal on Friday evening Mr and Mrs. Joe R. Danna hosted a rehearsal dinner in their home at 113 Glenmar Avenue.

Silver bowls of carnations were placed at various points in the living room, while a similar silver bowl of carnations centered the dining room table, which was overlaid with a lace handcut imported cloth. Silver candelabrum flanked the center arrangement, and a silver coffee service also reposed on the table.

The honoree chose to wear a gold wool tweed ensemble with matching accessories.

Those attending the rehearsal dinner included Mr and Mrs. Danna, Mr. and Mrs. Leon C. Brossett, Mr and Mrs Albert Casey, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Williams, Mr and Mrs. Kenneth Bartlett, Mr and Mrs. Leon J. Leslie, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Liles Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Jones, Mrs. Bobby O'Connor, Mrs. Mary F. Danna, Mrs. Anna F. Danna, Miss Maria Varino, Miss Faye Parker, Miss Theresa Anne Danna, Miss Eliza Noble Ford, Miss Elaine Kesketh, Miss Julia Ann Jones, Miss Rosemary Bartlett, Miss Diane Bartlett, John Hannah, J. D. Cascio, Herbie Kilpatrick, Tony Danna, Ray Vineyard, Sam Danna, Danny Doughty and Sammy R. Danna.

CONVERSATIONAL HOUR

Miss Faye Parker was the hostess for a conversational hour honoring Miss Danna on Thursday, November 2nd, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. McKay at 611 K Street in Monroe.

Roses and greenery were used throughout the living room, and an artificial bridal arrangement with variegated greenery graced the serving table.

Miss Danna was attired in a blue cashmere skirt and sweater with matching accessories.

Guests who called at the appointed hour of 7:30 were Mrs. Kenneth Bartlett, Mrs. Joe R. Danna, Mrs. Leon Leslie, Mrs. Mary F. Danna, Mrs. Anna F. Danna, Miss Theresa Ann Danna, Miss Maria Varino, Miss Eliza Ford, Mrs. Leon C. Brossett, Miss Elaine Hesketh, Mrs. Bobby O'Connor.

Miss Watson Bride-Elect, Given Shower

Miss Joyce Watson, bride elect of Douglas Griffith, was the honor guest at a miscellaneous shower given in the home of Mrs. Reggie Hinton, at 500 Herman Street.

An arrangement of daffodils centered the refreshment table, and Miss Watson chose a dress in pink and white chiffon, complemented by the corsage of pink roses gifted her by the hostess, Mrs. Hinton.

Those invited to share the occasion with Miss Watson were Mrs. Gus Watson, mother of the honoree, Mrs. A. C. McBroom, Jr., Mrs. W. L. Albritton, Mrs. James Wallensford, Mrs. Lee Evans, Mrs. George Kilpatrick, Mrs. Dorothy Smith, Mrs. Emile Payne, Mrs. Sue Garlington, Miss Lou Templeton, and Miss Paulette Clack.

Preferential Tea Planned By Beta Sigma Phi

Plans for a preferential tea were made by members of Beta Pi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi at a meeting Thursday night, November 2 in St. Paul's Methodist Church.

The tea is scheduled to be held Sunday, November 12 at the home of Mrs. Bob DeMoss, 2310 Bienville, from 3 until 5 p.m.

During the business session presided over by Mrs. Norman Smith, a letter was read from the Lafayette Beta Sigma Phi, announcing the state convention to be held in that city June 1, 2, 3.

A ways and means project was adopted by the group and Mrs. Walter Hinckley was appointed chairman of the committee in charge, to be assisted by Mrs. Joe Lister and Mrs. DeMoss.

Program for the evening was presented by Mrs. DeMoss and Mrs. Myrtle Groves, on the topic "Interpretation of Love," from the program book, "Conduct, Expression, Purpose."

Mrs. Hinckley and Mrs. Lister, hostesses for the evening, served a dessert course at conclusion of the meeting. The hostess gift was won by Mrs. Alvis Gossett.

How To Trim Repair Bills

URBANA, Ill. — Before you call the service man for automatic laundry equipment, double-check the equipment. Mrs. Eloise Ronne, University of Illinois home economist, said "You may be overlooking a simple cause of trouble."

Check whether the electric plug is in the wall receptacle. If you have a gas dryer, be sure the gas is on and the pilot is lit. Is there a blown fuse or open circuit breaker? Are both water faucets turned on for the washer? Are hoses free of kinks?

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I don't want advice. I just want to put into words what a broken home can do to a girl. Maybe it will make some so-called adults stop and think before they rush to the divorce court to break up a marriage.

My dad and mother were divorced when I was 12. Mom was devoted to Dad but he met another woman and wanted his freedom.

Dad married the other woman. They had two little girls. As I grew up I saw them around town quite often. It hurt me terribly to see my father give them the love and attention that rightfully belonged to me.

I've been going with a wonderful boy. He looks a lot like my dad and has the same winning charm. I'm afraid to let myself fall in love. I couldn't bear to go through the torture my mother did.

Divorce has made me afraid of love and afraid of marriage. Thank you for letting me get this off my chest. —REJECTED

Dear Rejected: Your letter expresses well what I've been trying to say for years: that children bear the real brunt of divorce.

I hope you will get professional help to allay your fear of love and marriage. Therapy has enabled many unhappy people to make a good adjustment.

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter is 28 years old. She came home two years ago when her marriage didn't pan out.

Her father and I are not young any more and we make just enough working part-time to get by. We are trying to look ahead and save a little for the future because we know a pension doesn't go far these days.

Our daughter does nothing but eat, sleep, watch TV and talk on the telephone. She claims the only job she can take is one where she can sit down because she has flat feet and can't stand long. Yet she has no trouble dancing every night on those same flat feet.

Please tell us what to do. This girl has gone to business school and she has earned as high as $80 a week as a secretary. Thanks for any help you can give us. —OLD FOLKS.

Dear Folks: Spend one more dollar on the lazy hulk. Buy her a pair of arch-supporters and tell her to go out and find herself a job—any kind. Let her know that within 14 days she must pay you $20 a week for room, board and service or out she goes.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a girl 15 and I have a big problem. This fellow I've been going steady with is nice, but I am getting bored with him and I want to date others. Whenever I tell him I want to break up he gives me a big sales talk and I wind up defeated.

So long as I have his sweater and ring and go to all the hops and games with him no one else will ask me. Going steady is for the birds, Ann, but once you start, it's awfully hard to break off.

Please tell me what to do. —EUNICE.

Dear Eunice: Give back the sweater and the ring plus other loot which may bind you to him. Then tell him goodbye—and make it final.

You may sit at home dateless for a few weeks, but the word will get around that you're available and you'll be in circulation again. And Miss 15, please "stay that way"!

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for "Ann Landers'" booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Your Baby And Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Pacifiers, like great-grandmother's rocker, are back in style again and mothers of today are purchasing these modern, little rubber and plastic contrivances which soothe their babies.

Most present-day grandmothers watch with mingled shock and embarrassment as their daughters tuck the young ones in with a pat—and a pacifier. A generation ago one followed a rigid four-hour schedule. An infant was walked and rocked only under dire stress. Anything resembling a pacifier (even if one knew where to find one) was definitely 'taboo'.

Idea Today

A pacifier is not really harmful, and the doctor does not discourage its use if it will make the baby more contented.

The chief advantage to the pacifier is that babies are not apt to develop such habits as thumb sucking and blanket chewing.

Because is is shaped like a nipple, both soft and pliable, it should not cause a callus or affet the formation of the jaw or teeth as thumbsucking may. Attached to it is a ring, to be clutched when the baby is able.

Difficult To Break

However, it can become a deeply ingrained habit, difficult to break and embarrassing to the older child and his parents. It should not be used constantly, or relied on for every situation. Be sure the infant is neither hungry, uncomfortable or sick before you attempt to satisfy his unrest with a pacifier.

By the time the baby is 6 months old, the biological need for sucking is lessened. This is a good time to begin to break the habit. Give it to him only when he will not go to sleep without it. Avoid letting him use it when he is awake. Do not poke it into his mouth because it is easier than playing with him or giving him other attentions.

Be certain you are not encouraging a habit your baby may have given up by himself after only a few weeks. There is nothing more soothing at bedtime than a satisfied 'tummy" and the comfort of being dry and warm. Many babies soon outgrow the need for any additional inducement for sleep.

Some say the first six months are the hardest. If you would like expert advice on the care and feeding of a tiny baby, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the booklet, "The First Six Months." Address Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

By MERTON T. AKERS
United Press International

The clam which had marked the first fall of the Civil War was broken on Nov. 7, 1861.

President Lincoln got the action which he had been demanding, although it hardly had the epic sweep he wanted. No great armies attacked the South in unison, no crushing blows were struck. But the giant that was the North stirred — a naval captain with the even then famous name of Du Pont struck a blow at Port Royal Sound in South Carolina with his fleet, and an obscure brigadier, Ulysses S. Grant, took his first small step toward becoming a great general by fighting his first battle.

Samuel Francis du Pont, naval captain and a member of the wealthy explosives family, led a fleet of 77 vessels — 17 of them fighting ships carrying 155 guns, the others transports carrying 13,000 troops — against Forts Walker and Beauregard which guarded the entrance to Port Royal Sound, a harbor naval men said was big enough for all the navies of the world, which lay between Charleston, S.C., and Savannah, Ga.

Du Pont assembled his fleet at Hampton Roads in what he hoped was secrecy. But as he sailed Oct. 29, Judah P. Benjamin, Confederate secretary of war, warned Savannah authorities that the expedition was under way. A few hours later he sent word that its destination was Port Royal.

Benjamin's information probably came from a Union petty officer who deserted about the time the fleet sailed.

Off Cape Hatteras on Oct. 31 three supply ships were lost in a storm.

By Nov. 7, Du Pont had assembled his fleet off the entrance to Port Royal Sound, re-marked the shoals from which the Confederates had removed all navigational aids and moved in on the forts — Walker on the south point and Beauregard on the north, facing each other across a two and a half mile channel.

With the flagship "Wabash" in the lead, the 17 fighting ships—the biggest concentration of American naval power in the nation's history until then — moved into the channel between the forts in two columns, one for the main attack and one as a flanking force. The weather was perfect.

The first shell came from Fort Walker at 9:26 a.m. The "Wabash" and the "Susquehanna" answered and the fight was on.

The two columns of ships steamed between the forts firing at both. Then the main column turned and came back on a parallel course. The flanking column peeled off at the first turn and drove the little Confederate fleet of four vessels — three converted steamboats and a tug — into the shallow water of Skull Creek above Fort Walker.

Three times the attack fleet ran the elliptical course. The firing was furious. The "Wabash" alone fired 888 shells and the other ships a proportional number. Wind blew the battle smoke into the eyes of the Confederate gunners. That plus the fact that Federal ships were constantly on the move baffled their aim.

The Federal ships raked the flanks of Fort Walker as well as the side facing the channel.

By noon the firing from Fort Walker slowed. By 1 p.m. ammunition ran low. Brig. Gen. Thomas F. Drayton, commanding at the Fort, decided to abandon the work. By 2 p.m. the troops were gone. His brother, Percival Drayton, commanded the Union ship "Pocahontas" which helped to bombard the fort.

As the ships made their third round Fort Walker was silent. At 2:03 p.m. the Stars and Stripes were run up over the battered work by a landing party from the fleet, and the powder-blackened Union sailors set up a cheer.

Fort Beauregard also ceased firing and was occupied that night. Fort Walker mounted 2[illegible] guns, Beauregard 20.

Union casualties were 8 killed and 23 wounded. Confederate dead were reported to be from 32 to 100 and about 100 wounded.

The Federal fleet was battered but no ship was sunk in the engagement.

[illegible]

Thomas W. Sherman were debarking from their transports and shiploads of horses, food, ammunition and supplies were going ashore.

Within a few days Sherman's troops moved inland and occupied Beaufort and Port Royal, S. C., without opposition.

As the battle was being fought, Gen. Robert E. Lee arrived in the neighborhood, charged by Confederate President Jefferson Davis with shoring up the east coast defenses. Coming so soon after his failure in western Virginia, Lee's reputation now fell to a new low.

A thousand miles to the west on that same Nov. 7, Ulysses S. Grant fought his first battle at Belmont, Mo., a hamlet across the Mississippi River from Columbus, Ky., a Confederate strongpoint. The result was a standoff but Grant learned a lesson he would long remember — don't permit your troops to become demoralized by looting enemy camps.

Grant took five infantry regiments, two guns and two companies of cavalry — 3,114 men — from his headquarters at Cairo, Ill., dropped down the river on steamboats and landed in a cornfield above Belmont. Two gunboats guarded the expedition.

Posting one regiment as a guard, Grant led the rest down the river bank toward Belmont.

The fighting started after he had gone about a mile and a half "growing fiercer and fiercer for about four hours," Grant wrote in his memoirs, "the enemy being forced back gradually until he was driven into his camp.

"The officers and men were then under fire for the first time. Veterans could not have behaved better than they did up to the moment of reaching the rebel camp.

"At this point they became demoralized from their victory and failed to reap its full reward. The enemy had been followed so closely that when he reached the clear ground where his camp was pitched the beat a hasty retreat over the river bank which protected him from our shots and from view.

"The moment the camp was reached our men laid down their arms and commenced rummaging the tents to pick up trophies..."

Atmospheric Testing To Require Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another "gap" figures significantly in President Kennedy's get-ready policy on testing nuclear weapons in the air.

In this case, Kennedy has declared the United States continues to hold a lead between its nuclear strength and the corresponding power of any other nation, including the Soviet Union.

This country, he indicated, will resume atmospheric testing if it finds that the Soviet Union is narrowing or threatens to narrow—that gap.

With the current series of Soviet tests, Kennedy in effect acknowledged this week the U.S.A. may be making advances. But that does not mean the world can expect an early U.S. shot into the atmosphere.

Officials close to the subject note that the preparations Kennedy ordered on Thursday cannot be made immediately. Conclusions also must be reached on the nature and achievements of the Soviet tests, which apparently have not ended, and on what purposes the United States may want to explore.

These probably will include perfection of warheads and antimissile weapon.

A year ago, Kennedy's allegations of a missile gap had burst into a campaign issue. Republicans disputed his claim that the Soviet Union was in a superior position. Administration officials now contend the United States packs equal "deterrent" strength and may overtake the U.S.S.R. with its missile arsenal by 1963.

Declaring the United States many times ahead in the nuclear gap, Kennedy emphasized in his policy announcement: "It is essential to the defense of the free world that we maintain this relative position."

Kennedy [illegible] the actual firing of atmospheric shots to military necessity. But clearly and the basis for going beyond the expensive and time-consuming underground [illegible] to which the United States has limited itself since the Soviet Union broke the three-year moratorium on [illegible].

NEW BRITISH HEIR

Princess Margaret Gives Birth To Son

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret—a royal rebel most of her life — became a mother Friday strictly on schedule and apparently without complications.

At 10:45 a.m., Margaret, 31, gave birth to a son. Weeks ago, she said her baby would be born either the last week in October or the first in November. Two days ago, she tied a blue—for boys—ribbon on the baby's cot. She was right once more.

Automatically, Princess Margaret's first-born became Viscount Linley. He is fifth in line of succession to the British throne.

"Both mother and baby are well," said an official announcement.

Asked the baby's Christian names, a Clarence House spokesman replied: "We don't know yet."

One London newspaper headlined: "The Jones Boy."

The baby weighed 6 pounds, 4 ounces, a court announcement said.

The princess was married May 6, 1960.

To reporters, the father, Lord Snowdon, also 31, said: "Everybody is absolutely delighted and could not be more thrilled."

Before he was made an earl by Queen Elizabeth II on Oct. 3, he was Antony Armstrong-Jones, a former society photographer.

It was Prince Philip, the baby's uncle, who probably best summed up the reaction of the royal family to the birth.

Told of the new arrival while he was on an official visit to Leeds, the queen's husband said: "Oh, good. It's a great relief all around."

A talented individualist and nonconformist within the closed ranks of royalty, Margaret has shown a strong streak of stubbornness since she became a teen-ager.

She fell in love with Group Capt. Peter Townsend, a divorced man. After considerable pressure by her family, she gave him up.

She met Antony Armstrong-Jones at a party and something clicked besides his camera shutter. Quietly and secretly they courted. If she met royal opposition, she overcame it.

Once engaged, she insisted her husband be given a title. He got it.

Margaret had her baby at Clarence House, Queen Mother Elizabeth's home, because the apartment the queen gave her rent-free at Kensington Palace is too small.

Quite rightly, she reasoned, it would never hold the complex medical equipment that her team of five medical men and two nurses moved into Clarence House.

The queen wasn't at Clarence House for the birth. She was conferring knighthoods and other honors in a previously scheduled ceremony at Buckingham Palace. She hurried over as soon as she could and spent 18 minutes at Clarence House.

Crowds flocked around Clarence House all day. Late in the day, they were still there. Newspapers carried big headlines announcing the birth.

Self-willed to a strong degree, Margaret will probably be up in 48 hours.

Her gynecologist, Sir John Peel, likes young mothers to be out of bed in two days. He got the queen up early after her three babies.

Hungry Hondurans Storm Consulate

GUATEMALA (AP)—Press reports from Belize Friday said a mob of hungry British Hondurans stormed the Guatemalan consulate seeking food.

The scarcity of food following Hurricane Hattie was described as still serious with acts of pillage increasing.

Estimates here were that the death toll had risen to about 300.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Judge Scolds Singer Lewis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A judge administered a tongue lashing to Jerry Lee Lewis Friday because the Rock 'n' Roll singer showed up in court without a record of his earnings.

Lewis' former wife, now Mrs. Jane Wilkinson, 24, Natchez, Miss., charges that the 26-year-old singer is behind in child support payments.

"I have the feeling that you are playing fast and loose with this court," circuit Judge Edward Quick told Lewis.

The singer's attorney said the person who keeps Lewis' books is in Louisiana. He assured the judge the records would be made available as soon as possible.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

SUPERFLOUS HAIR

Unwanted or superflous hair is transient or permanent. If 100 women with hair on the upper lip and chin were examined thoroly, in 99, nothing could be found to account for the growth. The other might have a disturbance of the adrenal, thyroid, or sex glands. In other words, hirsuitism in women occurs so frequently it is regarded as normal.

Skin is covered with fine down (lanugo), which is thicker in some than in others. When the hair is fine and blond, little need be done. If the color is darker, the simplest treatment is to bleach with hydrogen peroxide and ammonia water.

For coarse hair, there are a number of choices. Shaving has many advantages but most women hesitate to resort to this procedure. They are afraid it will alter the texture of the hair or cause more to grow, even tho these possibilities have been disapproved. Shaving too close may lead to irritation, even to ingrown hairs.

A razor is a sharp weapon as a trim little teen-ager discovered recently. This young lady was invited out and had an hour to bathe and dress. She spied hair on her legs and decided to use father's best razor. Shaving freed her limbs of hair but she spent more than half an hour treating her wounds. Hereafter, she expects to do her barbering when she has more time to be careful.

A small patch of hair is more easily removed with tweezers or rubbed off with an abrasive, such as a fine pumice stone. Wax applied when it is soft and gummy, removes hair as it is pulled off. There are many chemical depilatories on the market. These products contain one of the sulfides that kills hair at the surface of the skin. The tender skinned person must remember that a solution powerful enough to remove hair also is powerful enough to cause dermatitis.

Electrolysis is another well recognized method for eliminating excess hair. In this procedure, a fine wire is inserted along the shaft of the hair. It is then charged with electricity, which destroys the root. This is a tricky maneuver that should be used only by experts. Too little current, for example, has a temporary effect whereas too much leads to scarring.

COLD HANGS ON

L. B. writes: Why is it harder to get rid of a summer cold than a winter cold?

REPLY

There is no reason why this should occur unless the "cold" is an allergy to pollen (hay fever) or is aggravated by swimming or sleeping in a draft.

SPINAL DEFECT TEST

G. M. H. writes. Is it dangerous to have fluid extracted from the spine for an X-ray to determine the cause of sciatic nerve pain?

REPLY

Not when the test is done properly. Furthermore, the back condition may cause more damage to the spine than any test given.

CORTISONE AND CANCER

F. V. writes: Does cortisone stimulate or reactivate an old cancer?

REPLY

Come again. It is unusual for cancers to become old. They continue to grow until the end. Certain hormones retard or hasten cancer and cortisone tends to slow up the growth of many tumors.

DAILY ICE CREAM

S. T. G. writes. Is eating three dips of ice cream a day just as good, as drinking milk? I have been doing this for three years because I don't like milk and feel fine.

REPLY

Yes.

Two Surrender On Counterfeit Stamp Charges

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Two Pittsburgh men wanted in Philadelphia on charges of attempting to sell one million counterfeit postage stamps surrendered to federal authorities here Friday.

Robert Blaney, 35, and Nathan Martin, 53, posted $500 bond before U.S. Commissioner Alex McNaugher and were released pending arraignment in Philadelphia.

Bench warrants were issued for the two suspects Wednesday after three alleged accomplices tried to sell the bogus stamps for $15,000 to an undercover Secret Service agent.

The other three were arrested and identified as Joseph A. Costello, 28, and Vincent Noce, 36, both of Brooklyn, N.Y., and Peter J. Troiano, 25, of Miami, Fla.

UNEMPLOYMENT DROPS

Jobholders Set October Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment declined by 151,000 in October to 3,934,000, and employment rose by 786,000 to 67,824,000 — a record for any October.

It was the first time in a year that the idle total has been below four million.

Despite the big increase in employment and drop in unemployment, the seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment compared with the civilian labor force remained at 6.8 per cent, the same level as in September. The rate has remained practically the same for 11 consecutive months.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said in a statement that the unchanging heavy jobless rate "underscores that we have a stubborn and continuing unemployment problem." Goldberg's statement was cabled from Japan where he is visiting.

Goldberg said he was naturally gratified that the unemployment total has declined below four million. The nation also can take satisfaction, he said, that employment has been steadily increasing to record levels.

But, speaking of the continuing high level of unemployment, the labor secretary said: "I wish to reaffirm the determination of the Kennedy administration to reduce this unemployment problem to manageable proportions."

"We shall continue vigorously to pursue our objectives of a higher rate of economic growth, which is the best job insurance. We shall also renew our proposal to congress for speedy enactment of the manpower and retraining bill, so that hundreds of thousands of long term unemployed can be retrained with upgraded skills for useful jobs," he said.

Seymour Wolfbein, Labor Department manpower expert, said in releasing the October job figures Friday that the increase in employment and decline in unemployment were largely seasonal. October is a month that usually sees the best showing of the year.

The increase of 786,000 in employment represented almost double what is expected in October. However, this was attributed largely to the fact that September job improvement was less than expected due to stormy weather.

Nonfarm employment increased by 228,000 to 61,860,000, a record for the month, but no more than was seasonally anticipated.

On the favorable side were modest declines in the number of workers employed only part time, and those idle for four months or longer.

Wolfbein said the figures demonstrate that to lick the unemployment problem, a high level of economic growth is needed along with "a meaningful program" for training idled workers in new skills.

Limited Service Offered At New Tech Library

RUSTON (Special) — Prescott Memorial Library at Louisiana Tech has been opened for limited hours of service, according to E. J. Scheerer, librarian.

Although the library is only partly equipped, science - technology and humanities areas are open for service.

Some books in the business and social science area will be available only on request at the charging desk on the main floor. The document room is to remain in the old building for about one month, as shelves are being refinished.

When the building is fully equipped, it will be open on 66-hours - per - week schedule, Mr. Scheerer said.

The delay in opening the limited service of the library is because of the late delivery of steel shelving tables and other equipment.

The moving of books involves the transfer of approximately 85,000 volumes and nearly 300,000 state and federal documents.

The new building will seat 840 readers and has a maximum book capacity of 323,000.

APPROVES WING DESIGN

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) has approved the design of a reshaped wing that increases the range and speed of the DC8 jetliner, it was announced Friday.

The modification involves sharpening the leading edge of the wing and extending its width. A DC8 testing the new wing recently broke the sound barier and reached a record transport altitute of 52,000 feet.

Mrs. Kennedy To Visit India, Pakistan Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy, wife of the President, will leave around Nov. 20 for a visit of about two weeks to India and Pakistan, the White House announced Friday.

The announcement said the First Lady is going to the two countries "in a private and personal capacity" for the purpose of visiting educational and research centers and viewing the historical art treasures of these nations.

In Indian she will be the guest of Prime Minister Nehru and his daughter, Indira Gandhi.

[illegible]

The White House said Ayub [illegible] the trip with Mrs. Kennedy during his July visit to Washington.

Engine Trouble, Weather Delay Record Trials

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) — Weather and mechanical troubles combined Friday to "shoot down" two scheduled record attempts in diferent X15 rocket planes.

Air Force Maj. Robert White had to call off his attempt at 4,100 miles an hour just seconds before air launch when the igniter in the 57,000-pound thrust rocket engine failed to work. The igniter is similar to a pilot light in a water heater.

The second record try, an altitude flight to 47.3 miles high, by space agency pilot Joe Walker, was canceled about an hour later because of clouds over the Tonopah, Nev., launch area.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials said that White's speed run — postponed seven times in the last two weeks —would be tried again Saturday. But Walker's altitude flight was not immediately rescheduled.

U.S. Squadron Reaches France

NANCY, France (AP) — The U.S. Air Force's 131st Fighter Squadron, under the command of Col. Glennolt Moran, arrived Friday at the nearby Toul-Rosieres base as part of the U.S. defense buildup in Western Europe.

The Toul-Rosieres base is one of four in France the U.S. Air Force is reactivating to handle an increased number of planes in Europe.

The bases were closed down when France refused to allow the United States to stockpile nuclear weapons on French soil. Under the reactivation program the craft will be armed only with conventional weapons.
